VOLUME 8. JANESVILLE, WIS., SATURDAY, JUNE 11, 1864. NUMBER 89.

Janesville Weekly Gazette.

TERMS PER YEAR, . . . $2,00. IN ADVANCE.

THE WEEKLY GAZETTE is now the largest paper published in the State, and having the matter published in the DAILY to select from, we challenge comparison with any newspaper in Wisconsin. In correct political doctrine, in reliable market reports, in giving the latest news from all quarters, in literary merit and in local information relating to this city and county, we shall spare no pains to make the WEEKLY GAZETTE worthy of public patronage and support.

The Fremont Platform.

The Janesville GAZETTE, the Milwaukee Life, and other Republican papers feign to be astonished at our views of the Fremont platform, and freely ascribe to us sinister purposes in giving expression to them.

We beg leave to inform these journals of two facts which they do not seem to comprehend: that Democrats are more devoted to principles than to men or to parties, and that according to every intelligent opinion, the Cleveland platform, especially as interpreted by Gen. Fremont's letter, is in the main a concession to vital Democratic principles and a promise of important co-operation in their defense.—Milwaukee News.

It is precisely for the reason that the News is more devoted to party than to principle that people are led to doubt the sincerity and honesty of its motives. And there is good reason for this. We have been a constant reader of the News since controlled by its present proprietors, and we do not now remember of one single instance in which an act of the Administration met the approbation of that paper. Not once has any important measure, inaugurated by Mr. Lincoln or his friends, received the commendation of that sheet. Now why is this? Is it because the News and its party possess all the wisdom, and that Mr. Lincoln and those whom he represents are the exponents of everything insane and dangerous? The News itself is not vain enough to claim it. And yet the manner in which the war has been conducted, the way our finances have been managed, and our domestic and foreign policy have been taken as the grounds for constant and unceasing abuse and complaint against the Administration by the News and its followers. And in this respect our Milwaukee contemporary does not differ in the slightest degree from the great majority of those whose political doctrines correspond with its own. Nine-tenths of them are so blinded by a hatred of their opponents and so in love with their old shell of a name, that they would prefer the overthrow of the Government rather than see it united and happy under Republican rule. This is why they oppose the war measures of the Administration and issue a bull of excommunication against such men as Butler, Johnson, Dickinson and all other Democrats who take an active part in upholding the hands of the Government and carrying on this war. It is not, therefore, important and truly Democratic principles, in the best sense of that term, that they are fighting for, but that their enemies may be overthrown and they again ascend to power.

But the News thinks we "see nothing in the Cleveland platform save its bearing upon the fate of negroes in South Carolina and other southern states." We assure it that we do see much more than that in it, and we have no hesitation in saying that we most heartily endorse a great deal more of that platform, than does the News. Its palaver about our solicitude for the welfare of the colored race in disregard, and at the expense of the rights and happiness of white men, is too nonsensical to merit reply. It is because we are anxious to perpetuate and secure the happiness and destiny of the white race that we insist on justice being done to the colored man. It is by doing justice to that race that the shortest cut out of our terrible dangers and difficulties is found. And God will never let us off or give our poor, bleeding and distracted nation the peace we so earnestly covet, until we do it. A little moral philosophy and a recognition of that "higher law" which the News so much delights to ridicule and contemn, would be a pleasant panacea for it and its friends. The democratic platforms and the Ryan Address have so blunted and benumbed the moral perceptions of some men that they are led to doubt the authenticity of any teaching which interdicts the dogmas of the party.

"The Cleveland platform, as interpreted by Gen. Fremont's letter," says the News, "is in the main a concession to vital democratic principles, and a promise of important co-operation in their defense." Now we begin to get at the milk in the cocoa-nut. Let us see, first, what are the concessions to vital democratic principles" there are in the Cleveland platform before it undergoes the interpretive process which Gen. Fremont's letter gives it. It will be, indeed, a most remarkable and noteworthy event when Parker Pillsbury, Stephen S. Foster and William Goodell frame a platform that in the main harmonizes with the doctrine of the copperhead faction. Here are the resolutions adopted at Cleveland:

First: That the Federal Union shall be preserved.

Second: That the Constitution and laws of the United States must be observed and obeyed.

Third: That the Rebellion must be suppressed by force of arms, and without compromise.

Fourth: That the rights of free speech, free press, and the habeas corpus be held inviolate, save in districts where martial law has been proclaimed.

Fifth: That the Rebellion has destroyed slavery, and the Federal Constitution should be amended to prohibit its re-establishment, and to secure to all men absolute equality before the law.

Sixth; That integrity and economy are demanded at all times in the administration of the Government, and that in time war the want of them is criminal.

Seventh: That the right of asylum, except for crime and subject to law, is a recognized principle of American Liberty; that any violation of it cannot be overlooked, and must not go unrebuked.

Eighth: That the national policy known as the "Monroe Doctrine" has become a recognised principle, and that the establishment of an anti-Republican Government on this continent by any foreign Power cannot be tolerated.

Ninth: That the gratitude and support of the Nation is due to the faithful soldiers and the earnest leaders of the Union Army and Navy for their heroic achievements and deathless valor in defense of our imperiled country and of civil liberty.

Tenth: That the one term-policy for the Presidency adopted by the people is strengthened by the force of the existing crises, and should be maintained by Constitutional amendments.

Eleventh: That the Constitution should be so amended that the President and Vice-President shall be elected by a direct vote of the people.

Twelfth: That the question of the reconstruction of the rebellious States belongs to the people, through their Representatives in Congress, and not to the Executive.

Thirteenth: That the confiscation of the lands of the Rebels, and their distribution among the soldiers and actual settlers, is a measure of justice.

These resolutions do not read like those generally adopted by democratic national conventions, and, we undertake to say, that they will essentially differ from those which will be laid down as the creed of the party at Chicago on the Fourth of July next. The first and second every body consents to but the rebels. The third, fifth and ninth are just precisely what every so-called democratic paper in the land is opposed to and protests against. The six, seventh and eighth are not so full nor so well expressed as the resolutions on the same subjects in the Baltimore platform. The tenth and eleventh do not involve any "concession to democratic principles" that we know of, but quite the reverse. The twelfth and thirteenth are repudiated by Gen. Fremont himself in his letter of acceptance, and he does so as a sop to the peace men. The intelligent reader will naturally smile as he weighs these resolutions and remembers that the News claims them to be concessions to its doctrines.

But the News has too much sense to quote a single one of these resolves and let its readers see a sample of the new "democratic" gospel. On the contrary it only copies Fremont's semi-copperhead interpretation of them in language as follows:

"Gen. Fremont says in his letter of acceptance that it was among the objects of the Cleveland convention to bring the people "to realize that while we are saturating the southern soil with the best blood of the country, in the name of liberty, we have really parted with liberty at home."

There, good reader, you have the Cleveland platform's "concession to vital Democratic principles," in one dose. It is not the resolutions, separately nor in the aggregate, that the News adopts, but Fremont's interpretation of them, and it gets at the marrow of the question by frankly acknowledging that to persuade the people of the North that they have lost their liberty, "is precisely what the Democrats have been laboring for during the past three years." And if we can believe the poet Campbell that may we not also believe the Milwaukee News when it asserts that she took her final departure from these shores when Abraham Lincoln was inaugurated President of the United States?

"Freedom shrieked when Kosciusko fell,"

RETURN OF CAPT. RUGER.—Capt. Wm. Ruger, Assistant A. A. G. on the Staff of Gen. Ruger arrived in the city yesterday afternoon, having just come from northern Georgia, where he was wounded in the knee by a piece of a shell, in a recent engagement. He gives a cheering account of the progress of affairs in Sherman's department, and from his statement it is apparent that Sherman is abundantly able to take care of the rebel army opposed to him. The Captain's wound is of so serious a nature to keep him from the field for a number of weeks, probably.

TAKEN PRISONER.—Hon. David Noggle has just received information that his eldest son was taken prisoner one day last week. Lieut Noggle was a member of the 2d regiment U. S. Infantry, (regulars) and has been attached to the 5th corps, Army of the Potomac. He has participated in the whole series of hard fought battles from the Rapidan to the Chickahominy. His regiment valorously fought itself down to seventy-five men, and now all but fifteen of those are prisoners in the hands of the rebels.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.—It is soon to be here, commencing Tuesday next at three o'clock.

The ladies soliciting entertainment deserve great credit for the earnestness with which they have entered upon the work, and many who have been called upon have done nobly, some taking six delegates and some even more, still there is a great deficiency, and it will never do to have the good name for hospitality, which we have always sustained as a city taken from us now.

Names already sent in are equal to the provisions made, and we cannot expect less than two hundred more. The only way to meet the exigency is for those who have signified the number they can entertain, to increase the number if possible, and all who have not proffered, to do so at once to any member of the reception committee. E. S. Barrows, O. J. Dearborn, James Sutherland, J. B. Crosby, J. T. Wright.

If you can take but one, do that.

TO MERCHANTS, MILLERS AND OTHER SHIPPERS.—I am now prepared to make season contracts for Lake Insurance in the old companies at best rates.

PLACE TO REPORT.—The delegates to the Sunday School Convention to be held here next week, will find the committee to assign them stopping places during their stay in the city, at the Congregational Church, on Jackson street.

FROST.—In some sections of the city there have been unmistakable evidences of the presence of frost for the past two mornings. We do not learn that vegetation has received any particular injury in the city, but back on the prairie, corn, potatoes, tobacco and in fact, pretty much every thing green, suffered severely.

THE SOLDIERS' AID SOCIETY OF CENTER AND PLYMOUTH.—There will be a meeting of this Society at the house of W. S. Follensbee next Thursday afternoon.

All who attend are requested to bring in such things as will make lint, shirts, drawers, bandages and other necessary articles for a sick or wounded soldier.

THE CHILDRENS' MEETING during the Convention will be held on Thursday afternoon, at which time they will be addressed by distinguished gentlemen from New York, Philadelphia and other cities. Time and place given hereafter. Mr. Chaeney well meet all the children at 4 o'clock on Sabbath afternoon in the Baptist Church to sing.

CITY DEMOCRATIC ASSEMBLY CONVENTION.—The Democratic electors of the city of Janesville will meet in Mass Convention at the Court Room at 2 o'clock P. M., June 15th, to appoint delegates to the State Convention to be held at Madison on the 22d inst.

Janesville, June 11th, 1864.

THE SOLDIERS' AID SOCIETY.—We understand that the ladies connected with the Soldiers' Aid Society are discussing the propriety of holding a Strawberry and Ice Cream festival as a means of replenishing their now empty Treasury. We see no reason why this would not be a pleasant and profitable way of raising the wind. Certainly the object aimed at, to raise means whereby the Society will be enabled to go forward in the good Samaritan work of benefitting the sick and wounded soldiers, is one that commends itself in the strongest possible manner to all the nobler impulses of our better nature. There never were so many wounded soldiers in our hospitals as there are at the present writing, and there will be thousands more added to the list before Grant reaches Richmond or Sherman occupies Atlanta; and any thing that we who stay at home in ease and security, can do ought to be done speedily and cheerfully. The objection that similar entertainments have been and are now in contemplation, should not deter the ladies for one moment. This is a necessity that overshadows all others and would enlist the hearty co-operation of all alike; and those denominations who have been benefitted by the liberality of the public on similar occasions, ought to, and no doubt would be among the first to lend their aid and influence to carry this out successfully. No fears need be entertained but that the project would be a decidedly popular one with the public generally, and result in placing the Society in a condition to go on in its good work.

THE WAR IN VIRGINIA.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, June 8.— Nothing of interest transpired to-day. Along the line the utmost quiet prevailed until about 5 P. M., when a skirmish took place on the left.

Capt. McEwing of Gen. Hancock's staff, who lost a leg by a shell Sunday evening, is still alive, although no hopes are entertained of his recovery.

The Richmond Examiner of the 7th, says: Gen. Jones, commanding our forces in the valley, was defeated by Hunter on Sunday near Mt. Crawford, and they retreated to Waynesboro. It adds that rumors are current in Richmond that the disaster included the loss of trains, but the Secretary of War announced that there was no truth in them; that all the guns and trains got off safely. Jones was killed in the action.

The withdrawal of Breckenridge was said to be a mistake, and the Yankees took advantage of the weakened force under Jones and overpowered them.

There is a rumor also in Richomond that Lexington has been taken, and the Military Institute there burned, and also that Grant's army is falling back to the White House.

Fifty prisoners arrived from Lee's army on Monday.

A dispatch from Lee's army, dated the 7th, at 6 P. M., says last evening the enemy retreated from our left and part of the centre in great haste. Early followed them 12 miles to-day, capturing prisoners who say Grant has gone to the White House because his men will not fight. The impression here, however, is that Grant is making for the James River to cross to the south.

Dispatches from North Ga., dated June 6th, state that the union army is still making towards Altoona.

Hooker's corps are fortifying the hills between Ackworth and Atlanta.

Heavy rains for two days have made the roads almost impassable for artillery and retarded their movements considerably.—Some night skirmishing occurred near Lost mountain on the 5th. On the morning of the 6th, all was quiet. Later accounts say that the Union army crossed the railroad near Ackworth. Hooker is said to be five miles east of it on the old Altoona road. Joe Johnston's headquarters were west of Marietta and his left wing at Lost Mountain. Hardee commanded the right, Polk the left and Hood the center. The Yankee cavalry dashed into Big Shanty at 10 a. m. on the 6th, and were fighting Williams' brigade when the reporter left. A despatch from Mobile June 6th, says that the steamer Danger was captured this morning while attempting to run the blockade. She had an assorted cargo. The operator at Jackson on the 5th, reported on the authority of a scout, that Marmaduke had blockaded the Mississippi above and below Greenville.—His force is large. He destroyed three transports, securing two or three cargoes; also stripped the gunboat and some other transports. There are four transports between his batteries, and they cannot go either up or down.

FORT MONROE, June 9.—We have no regular communication between this place and the White House, but mail steamers run regular between the latter place and Washington. Steamer John A. Warren arrived from Bermuda. She reports all quiet with Butler's force with the exception of little firing in the direction of Petersburg this morning.

We have no intelligence from Grant's army. No firing has been heard in that direction for three days.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Passengers arriving here to-day, state on the authority of a Captain of a New Jersey regiment, that information of the burning of Bowling Green, Va., by our forces, has been received at the front. It appears that a train of ours was fired upon from the houses, in consequence of which the cavalry escort took the citizens and placed them in two houses standing away from the town, after which the town was set on fire and completely destroyed.

DISPATCH STATION, Va., 8th.—The 1st and 4th division corps received marching orders this morning. It was 3 o'clock in the morning when the men began to march. When day dawned the rebels on the south side of the Chickahominy observed the moving column and opened on it with two guns of very heavy calibre.—Several men were injured while marching in ranks. Col. Hoffman's brigade, 4th division immediately took possession of this side of the railroad bridge. A barricade was thrown across the railroad about 12 miles below this station, between us and the rebel forces on the Chickahominy.

At this point the stream is not more than 100 yards in width, and the bridge is three times as long. All the track is in good running order, though a little rusty from long disuse. During the afternoon the rebels moved a heavy piece of ordnance on a truck and approached within a short distance of the bridge, and threw some 6-inch shells over our men, eliciting considerable criticism from those who happened to make narrow escapes. Rifle-pits were dug, and a long line of fortifications begun. For a long time the skirmishers were friendly and conversed with each other across the river. Before dark they were using every species of device to cause one another to expose their bodies for a mark.

FROM KENTUCKY.

CINCINNATI, June 10.—One of Morgan's men captured at Maysville, reports that the force in Kentucky is under the immediate command of Morgan. Col. Alston's and Col. Smith's total force is about 3,000. A large proportion of them are dismounted cavalry. They entered the State at Pound Gap. A scouting party under Everett was sent ahead to pick up horses for the dismounted men. They then passed through Hazel Green, Owinsville, Flemingsburg, and took Maysville without resistance, robbing citizens of money and other valuables. The Union men were stripped of horses, while those of the rebel citizens were protected. Everett left Maysville Wednesday for Mount Sterling, at which place it is thought Morgan's men concentrated with the intention of attacking Lexington.

The position of affairs in the central part of the State to-day is not known, as communication is broken with Lexington. It is thought that it is the intention of the rebels to destroy all the Railroad possible and make their exit through Central Kentucky and Middle Tennessee. The Kentucky Central Railroad is being repaired. Trains will run to Cynthiana to-morrow.

Gen. Hobson left Covington to-day to open communication with Lexington.

CINCINNATI, June 10.—Gen. Burbridge, who has been following the rebels since they left Pound Gap, came up with them yesterday at Mount Sterling and whipped them handsomely.

A portion of Morgan's command entered Lexington at two o'clock this morning, burned the Kentucky Central Railroad depot and robbed a number of stores, and left at 10 o'clock in the direction of Georgetown and Frankfort. Burbridge is following them.

FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, June 10.—Most of the leading journals of this city to-day devote several columns to an exceedingly interesting communication from Sec'y Seward to the United States Senate relative to the feasability of great advantage to be derived by this country from the projected inter-continental telegraph to unite America to Europe via Behring's Straits and Russia. These journals contain editorial articles highly commendatory of the great project, urging prompt legislation on the part of Congress to enable the company to proceed at once with the vast work.

NEW YORK, June 10.—At the meeting of the associated banks to-day, resolutions to deposit $25,000,000 with the sub-treasury and receive in return 6 per cent. certificates was lost for want of a unanimous vote. Thirty-six voting in favor and fourteen against this, will not prevent affirmative banks from depositing money, and it is probable this will be done while some of the negative banks may yet sign the agreement.

The steamer Kangaroo from Liverpool, returned to Quarantine with a slight damage to her machinery.

FROM HILTON HEAD.

NEW YORK, June 10.—The Arago arrived from Port Royal, 7th, with 300 passengers, including Gen. Gordon and staff. The New Ironsides had arrived at Hilton Head on the evening of the 6th.

Sullivan's Island battery fired two shells at the fleet of wooden vessels, and although the range was not long they fell short.

A blockade runner sloop attempted to come out on the night of the 6th, but grounded and was completely knocked to pieces.

Admiral Dahlgren arrived at Hilton Head on the 7th.

The reported capture of the naval boat Columbine, with 30 colored troops on board, up the St. John's river, Florida, is confirmed.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

NEW YORK, June 10.—The steamer George Washington from New Orleans arrived. The blockade of the Mississippi at Greenville Mississippi is confirmed. Steamers Harry Ames, Mississippi, Olive Branch and others, are lying above Greenville awaiting the result of the engagement which has been going on for two days between the batteries and gunboats. But little if any impression appears to have been made on the batteries. Guerillas are again committing outrages in Louisiana.

THE WAR IN VIRGINIA.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The Tribune's headquarter's correspondence, 8th, says our left wing now extends across the Railroad on the eastern bank of the Chickahominy. The advance in that direction was made yesterday morning by Griffin's and Cutler's brigades, 8th corps, and Sumner's bridge taken after a short encounter. The 18th Massachusetts advanced to the river, driving the enemy's pickets and occupying the bridge. Two North Carolina regiments were on the opposite side of the river, and a rebel brigade at Meadow Station. Our position is impregnable against any assault.

The Times' special from Staunton, June 6th, says: We met the enemy in force 15 miles north of here and whipped him thoroughly. The rebels were commanded by Jones and Imboden. The former was killed. We pursued them to-day through here with little resistance, though strongly fortified and all males ordered out to defend it. We captured six guns, hundreds of prisoners and thousands of dollars worth of stores. We do not stop. There is a more important point to arrive at. Crook's cavalry are with us.

FROM CHARLESTON.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Tribune's Hilton Head correspondence of June 6th recounts various expeditions in that section on the 22d ult., Col. Von Gilsa, with a detachment from various regiments, among them the 55 Mass., proceeded towards Secessionville. At Battery Island the rebels were charged upon and driven from their earthworks. The 55th nearly annihilated one of the rebel regiments. Reconnoisance being satisfactorily effected, our troops were withdrawn. Firing on Charleston and Fort Sumter is keep up at intervals.

Beauregard had called for 5,000 men to reinforce him, but was told they could not be spared.

There is a prospect that the Keokuk will soon be raised. On the 24th, ult., an expedition moved up the Ashapoo river under Gen. Birney. It met with nothing but misfortune from the start. The steamer Boston got aground and had to be abandoned, when the rebels riddled her.

FROM HUNTER'S COMMAND.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Herald's Special says the enemy are retreating towards Blue Ridge.

Besides 6 guns we captured other arms of heavy calibre. Over a million dollars worth of stores fell into our hands. Railroad property destroyed largely. Some of our prisoners were boys. Our loss is not large. Thaburns brigade suffered most. The enemy's retreat is a complete stampede.

FROM FLORDA.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Herald's correspondent says that on the 1st of June Gen. Gordon made a brilliant dash on the rebels in front of Jacksonville Florida. The rebel camps Finnegan and Milton were flanked while another party attacked them in front. The enemy fled in confusion.

It appears that the gunboat Water Witch was surprised when captured. The rebels boarded her in small boats and before those on board had time to get out they were made prisoners. The Water Witch will be a great acquisition to the rebels.

FROM WASHINGTON.

NEW YORK, June 10.—The Commercial's Washington special says the committee of conference on payment of negro troops have finally agreed to give full pay to those who were free when hostilities commenced.

NEW YORK, June 10.—The Navy Department has not received any information concerning the reported capture of the steamer Water Witch.

BOSTON, June 10.—The schooner Nancy Mills reports that a British steamer left St. George, Bermuda, on the night of the 4th inst., for Wilmington, North Carolina, commanded by Moffitt of the Florida. Her mate was the man who shot the engineer of the Chesapeake. She had five heavy guns.

FIRE IN BOSTON.

BOSTON, June 10.—Early this morning a fire broke out in the building Nos. 16 and 17, Row's wharf, occupied by Messrs. Lewis, commission merchants. The building was nearly destroyed, with a large assortment of cotton, flour and West India goods. Loss estimated $50,000; mostly insured.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

FROM MEXICO.

NEW YORK, June 17.—The Tribune has information that Donlado with 2,000 men attacked an entrenched camp of French, 4,000 strong, between San Luis Potosi and Sattilla, and was defeated with loss of 150 men.

FROM ALBANY.

ALBANY, June 11.—It is rumored in political circles here that the National Democratic Convention called to meet at Chicago July 4th, will be postponed. It is understood the National Democratic Committee have the subject under consideration, and will arrive at some definite conclusion before the 20th.

FROM GEN. BUTLER.

FT. MONROE, June 10.—Wednesday morning a force under Gen. Gilmore made a demonstration on Petersburg and succeeded in carrying the enemies outer earth works with the loss of a few men.

While this was being done, Butler sent a force which succeeded in destroying 3 or 4 miles of the Petersburg and Richmond Railroad without loss.

FROM CAIRO AND BELOW.

CAIRO, June 10.—The steamer Emperor, No. 4, has arrived. No news. When the Emperor passed Columbia, on the 7th, an engagement had taken place between a part of Gen. W. F. Smith's forces and the rebels at Columbia. We are unable to get satisfactory information concerning it.—Our forces are reported to have lost 30 or 40 killed and 70 wounded. The battery at that place had been removed. When the Emperor passed the marine brigade boats were lying at Columbia. Buildings were burning on several plantations above. Smith's fleet was lying about two miles above Columbia.

The steamer Hillman, from Memphis 9th has arrived.

John Callaham, Jack Snower and Thos. Johnson, privates of the 2nd New Jersey cavalry were to be shot at Fort Pickering on the 10 for the crime of rape.

Little doing in the Memphis cotton market. Small stock on hand.

FROM KENTUCKY.

CINCINNATI, June 11.—After leaving Lexington and Georgetown Morgan's main force appears to have turned north, and following the line of the Kentucky Central Railroad attacked the 168th Ohio regiment at Cynthiana this morning, driving them north, burning the town and two trains which left Covington last night and this morning. Morgan is apparently trying to make his way out of the State nearly in the direction he entered.

LOUISVILLE, June 10.—The special train with 200 armed soldiers, which left here at 8 o'clock last evening, reports that it went within 13 miles of Frankfort, and ascertaining that the ordinance train bound here turned back and went toward Frankfort, with an escort of 40 soldiers on board, fighting and following a force of rebels at various points. The rebels had obstructed the road at several places between here and Bagdad, by felling trees and destroying bridges in the rear of the ordinance train as it returned from Bagdad towards Frankfort. It is supposed the train arrived safely at Frankfort, but the telegraph communication is not yet open to that city.

11 P. M.—Private advices from Bagdad report Frankfort as occupied by the rebels this afternoon, but it is discredited here, as headquarters have received no intelligence on the subject.

LOUISVILLE, June 11.—Headquarters received advices that Gov. Bramlette has armed the citizens of Frankfort, and that the fort is well garrisoned and can doubtless hold out until Gen. Burbridge, who at last accounts was at Lexington, shall arrive there.

A second dispatch says that Gen. Carrington commanding the district of Ind. now here received a telegram dated Bagdad, 10:30 this A. M., saying that heavy cannonading in that direction of Frankfort this morning, and still continued at intervals.

About 9 last evening a large fire was seen in that direction, and is reported to be from a burning bridge, about 3 miles this side of Frankfort.

NASHVILLE, June 11.—General order No. 14 from Gen. Sherman prohibits the disinterment of bodies of deceased officers and enlisted men, south of this latitude until the 31st of Oct. next.

INSURE WITH THE PHOENIX INSURANCE COMPANY, HARTFORD.—Our mode of adjusting losses. Feeling it a special duty I owe to the Phoenix Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., I take great pleasure in expressing my thankfulness for the promptness and liberality they have exhibited in honorably adjusting and paying my claim, for loss sustained by the total destruction of my brick store building and stock of merchandise contained therein in Harrodsburg Ky., a few days since, and upon which I had an insurance in the PHŒNIX.

I am to-day in receipt of the amount of my claim $9,500 sixty days before the same was due, according to the terms of the policy, which is satisfactory evidence in my mind that the PHŒNIX is the Company to do business with.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

Janesville Daily Gazette.

VOLUME 8. JANESVILLE, WIS., SATURDAY, JUNE 11, 1864. NUMBER 89.

The Fremont Platform.

The Janesville GAZETTE, the Milwaukee Life, and other Republican papers feign to be astonished at our views of the Fremont platform, and freely ascribe to us sinister purposes in giving expression to them.

We beg leave to inform these journals of two facts which they do not seem to comprehend: that Democrats are more devoted to principles than to men or to parties, and that according to every intelligent opinion, the Cleveland platform, especially as interpreted by Gen. Fremont's letter, is in the main a concession to vital Democratic principles and a promise of important co-operation in their defense.—Milwaukee News.

It is precisely for the reason that the News is more devoted to party than to principle that people are led to doubt the sincerity and honesty of its motives. And there is good reason for this. We have been a constant reader of the News since controlled by its present proprietors, and we do not now remember of one single instance in which an act of the Administration met the approbation of that paper. Not once has any important measure, inaugurated by Mr. Lincoln or his friends, received the commendation of that sheet. Now why is this? Is it because the News and its party possess all the wisdom, and that Mr. Lincoln and those whom he represents are the exponents of everything insane and dangerous? The News itself is not vain enough to claim it. And yet the manner in which the war has been conducted, the way our finances have been managed, and our domestic and foreign policy have been taken as the grounds for constant and unceasing abuse and complaint against the Administration by the News and its followers. And in this respect our Milwaukee contemporary does not differ in the slightest degree from the great majority of those whose political doctrines correspond with its own. Nine-tenths of them are so blinded by a hatred of their opponents and so in love with their old shell of a name, that they would prefer the overthrow of the Government rather than see it united and happy under Republican rule. This is why they oppose the war measures of the Administration and issue a bull of excommunication against such men as Butler, Johnson, Dickinson and all other Democrats who take an active part in upholding the hands of the Government and carrying on this war. It is not, therefore, important and truly Democratic principles, in the best sense of that term, that they are fighting for, but that their enemies may be overthrown and they again ascend to power.

But the News thinks we "see nothing in the Cleveland platform save its bearing upon the fate of negroes in South Carolina and other southern states." We assure it that we do see much more than that in it, and we have no hesitation in saying that we most heartily endorse a great deal more of that platform, than does the News. Its palaver about our solicitude for the welfare of the colored race in disregard, and at the expense of the rights and happiness of white men, is too nonsensical to merit reply. It is because we are anxious to perpetuate and secure the happiness and destiny of the white race that we insist on justice being done to the colored man. It is by doing justice to that race that the shortest cut out of our terrible dangers and difficulties is found. And God will never let us off or give our poor, bleeding and distracted nation the peace we so earnestly covet, until we do it. A little moral philosophy and a recognition of that "higher law" which the News so much delights to ridicule and contemn, would be a pleasant panacea for it and its friends. The democratic platforms and the Ryan Address have so blunted and benumbed the moral perceptions of some men that they are led to doubt the authenticity of any teaching which interdicts the dogmas of the party.

"The Cleveland platform, as interpreted by Gen. Fremont's letter," says the News, "is in the main a concession to vital democratic principles, and a promise of important co-operation in their defense." Now we begin to get at the milk in the coconut. Let us see, first, what concessions to vital democratic principles" there are in the Cleveland platform before it undergoes the interpretive process which Gen. Fremont's letter gives it. It will be, indeed, a most remarkable and noteworthy event when Parker Pillsbury, Stephen S. Foster and William Goodell frame a platform that in the main harmonizes with the doctrine of the copperhead faction. Here are the resolutions adopted at Cleveland:

First: That the Federal Union shall be preserved.

Second: That the Constitution and laws of the United States must be observed and obeyed.

Third: That the Rebellion must be suppressed by force of arms, and without compromise.

Fourth: That the rights of free speech, free press, and the habeas corpus be held inviolate, save in districts where martial law has been proclaimed.

Fifth: That the Rebellion has destroyed slavery, and the Federal Constitution should be amended to prohibit its re-establishment, and to secure to all men absolute equality before the law.

Sixth: That integrity and economy are demanded at all times in the administration of the Government, and that in time war the want of them is criminal.

Seventh: That the right of asylum, except for crime and subject to law, is a recognized principle of American Liberty; that any violation of it cannot be overlooked, and must not go unrebuked.

Eighth: That the national policy known as the "Monroe Doctrine" has become a recognised principle, and that the establishment of an anti-Republican Government on this continent by any foreign Power cannot be tolerated.

Ninth: That the gratitude and support of the Nation is due to the faithful soldiers and the earnest leaders of the Union Army and Navy for their heroic achievements and deathless valor in defense of our imperiled country and of civil liberty.

Tenth: That the one term-policy for the Presidency adopted by the people is strengthened by the force of the existing crises, and should be maintained by Constitutional amendments.

Eleventh: That the Constitution should be so amended that the President and Vice-President shall be elected by a direct vote of the people.

Twelfth: That the question of the reconstruction of the rebellious States belongs to the people, through their Representatives in Congress, and not to the Executive.

Thirteenth: That the confiscation of the lands of the Rebels, and their distribution among the soldiers and actual settlers, is a measure of justice.

These resolutions do not read like those generally adopted by democratic national conventions, and, we undertake to say, that they will essentially differ from those which will be laid down as the creed of the party at Chicago on the Fourth of July next. The first and second every body consents to but the rebels. The third, fifth and ninth are just precisely what every so-called democratic paper in the land is opposed to and protests against. The six, seventh and eighth are not so full nor so well expressed as the resolutions on the same subjects in the Baltimore platform. The tenth and eleventh do not involve any "concession to democratic principles" that we know of, but quite the reverse. The twelfth and thirteenth are repudiated by Gen. Fremont himself in his letter of acceptance, and he does so as a sop to the peace men. The intelligent reader will naturally smile as he weighs these resolutions and remembers that the News claims them to be concessions to its doctrines.

But the News has too much sense to quote a single one of these resolves and let its readers see a sample of the new "democratic" gospel. On the contrary it only copies Fremont's semi-copperhead interpretation of them in language as follows:

"Gen. Fremont says in his letter of acceptance that it was among the objects of the Cleveland convention to bring the people "to realize that while we are saturating the southern soil with the best blood of the country, in the name of liberty, we have really parted with liberty at home."

There, good reader, you have the Cleveland platform's "concession to vital Democratic principles," in one dose. It is not the resolutions, separately nor in the aggregate, that the News adopts, but Fremont's interpretation of them, and it gets at the marrow of the question by frankly acknowledging that to persuade the people of the North that they have lost their liberty, "is precisely what the Democrats have been laboring for during the past three years." And if we can believe the poet Campbell that may we not also believe the Milwaukee News when it asserts that she took her final departure from these shores when Abraham Lincoln was inaugurated President of the United States?

RETURN OF CAPT. RUGER.—Capt. Wm. Ruger, Assistant A. A. G. on the Staff of Gen. Ruger arrived in the city yesterday afternoon, having just come from northern Georgia, where he was wounded in the knee by a piece of a shell, in a recent engagement. He gives a cheering account of the progress of affairs in Sherman's department, and from his statement it is apparent that Sherman is abundantly able to take care of the rebel army opposed to him. The Captain's wound is of so serious a nature to keep him from the field for a number of weeks, probably.

TAKEN PRISONER.—Hon. David Noggle has just received information that his eldest son was taken prisoner one day last week. Lieut Noggle was a member of the 2d regiment U. S. Infantry, (regulars) and has been attached to the 5th corps, Army of the Potomac. He has participated in the whole series of hard fought battles from the Rapidan to the Chickahominy. His regiment valorously fought itself down to seventy-five men, and now all but fifteen of those are prisoners in the hands of the rebels.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.—It is soon to be here, commencing Tuesday next at three o'clock.

The ladies soliciting entertainment deserve great credit for the earnestness with which they have entered upon the work, and many who have been called upon have done nobly, some taking six delegates and some even more, still there is a great deficiency, and it will never do to have the good name for hospitality, which we have always sustained as a city taken from us now.

Names already sent in are equal to the provisions made, and we cannot expect less than two hundred more. The only way to meet the exigency is for those who have signified the number they can entertain, to increase the number if possible, and all who have not proffered, to do so at once to any member of the reception committee. E. S. Burrows, O. J. Dearborn, James Sutherland, J. B. Crosby, J. T. Wright.

If you can take but one, do that.

TO MERCHANTS, MILLERS AND OTHER SHIPPERS.—I am now prepared to make season contracts for Lake Insurance in the old companies at best rates.

PLACE TO REPORT.—The delegates to the Sunday School Convention to be held here next week, will find the committee to assign them stopping places during their stay in the city, at the Congregational Church, on Jackson street.

FROST.—In some sections of the city there have been unmistakable evidences of the presence of frost for the past two mornings. We do not learn that vegetation has received any particular injury in the city, but back on the prairie, corn, potatoes, tobacco and in fact, pretty much every thing green, suffered severely.

THE SOLDIERS' AID SOCIETY OF CENTER AND PLYMOUTH.—There will be a meeting of this Society at the house of W. S. Follensbee next Thursday afternoon.

All who attend are requested to bring in such things as will make lint, shirts, drawers, bandages and other necessary articles for a sick or wounded soldier.

THE CHILDREN'S MEETING during the Convention will be held on Thursday afternoon, at which time they will be addressed by distinguished gentlemen from New York, Philadelphia and other cities. Time and place given hereafter. Mr. Cheeney will meet all the children at 4 o'clock on Sabbath afternoon in the Baptist Church to sing.

CITY DEMOCRATIC ASSEMBLY CONVENTION.—The Democratic electors of the city of Janesville will meet in Mass Convention at the Court Room at 2 o'clock P. M., June 15th, to appoint delegates to the State Convention to be held at Madison on the 22d inst.

THE SOLDIERS' AID SOCIETY.—We understand that the ladies connected with the Soldiers' Aid Society are discussing the propriety of holding a Strawberry and Ice Cream festival as a means of replenishing their now empty Treasury. We see no reason why this would not be a pleasant and profitable way of raising the wind. Certainly the object aimed at, to raise means whereby the Society will be enabled to go forward in the good Samaritan work of benefitting the sick and wounded soldiers, is one that commends itself in the strongest possible manner to all the nobler impulses of our better nature. There never were so many wounded soldiers in our hospitals as there are at the present writing, and there will be thousands more added to the list before Grant reaches Richmond or Sherman occupies Atlanta; and any thing that we who stay at home in ease and security, can do ought to be done speedily and cheerfully. The objection that similar entertainments have been and are now in contemplation, should not deter the ladies for one moment. This is a necessity that overshadows all others and would enlist the hearty co-operation of all alike; and those denominations who have been benefitted by the liberality of the public on similar occasions, ought to, and no doubt would be among the first to lend their aid and influence to carry this out successfully. No fears need be entertained but that the project would be a decidedly popular one with the public generally, and result in placing the Society in a condition to go on in its good work.

THE WAR IN VIRGINIA.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, June 8.—Nothing of interest transpired to-day. Along the line the utmost quiet prevailed until about 5 P. M., when a skirmish took place on the left.

Capt. McEwing of Gen. Hancock's staff, who lost a leg by a shell Sunday evening, is still alive, although no hopes are entertained of his recovery.

The Richmond Examiner of the 7th, says: Gen. Jones, commanding our forces in the valley, was defeated by Hunter on Sunday near Mt. Crawford, and they retreated to Waynesboro. It adds that rumors are current in Richmond that the disaster included the loss of trains, but the Secretary of War announced that there was no truth in them; that all the guns and trains got off safely. Jones was killed in the action.

The withdrawal of Breckenridge was said to be a mistake, and the Yankees took advantage of the weakened force under Jones and overpowered them.

There is a rumor also in Richomond that Lexington has been taken, and the Military Institute there burned, and also that Grant's army is falling back to the White House.

Fifty prisoners arrived from Lee's army on Monday.

A dispatch from Lee's army, dated the 7th, at 6 P. M., says last evening the enemy retreated from our left and part of the centre in great haste. Early followed them 12 miles to-day, capturing prisoners who say Grant has gone to the White House because his men will not fight. The impression here, however, is that Grant is making for the James River to cross to the south.

Dispatches from North Ga., dated June 6th, state that the union army is still making towards Altoona.

Hooker's corps are fortifying the hills between Ackworth and Atlanta.

Heavy rains for two days have made the roads almost impassable for artillery and retarded their movements considerably.—Some night skirmishing occurred near Lost mountain on the 5th. On the morning of the 6th, all was quiet. Later accounts say that the Union army crossed the railroad near Ackworth. Hooker is said to be five miles east of it on the old Altoona road. Joe Johnston's headquarters were west of Marietta and his left wing at Lost Mountain. Hardee commanded the right, Polk the left and Hood the center. The Yankee cavalry dashed into Big Shanty at 10 a. m. on the 6th, and were fighting Williams' brigade when the reporter left. A despatch from Mobile June 6th, says that the steamer Danger was captured this morning while attempting to run the blockade. She had an assorted cargo. The operator at Jackson on the 5th, reported on the authority of a scout, that Marmaduke had blockaded the Mississippi above and below Greenville.—His force is large. He destroyed three transports, securing two or three cargoes; also stripped the gunboat and some other transports. There are four transports between his batteries, and they cannot go either up or down.

FORT MONROE, June 9.—We have no regular communication between this place and the White House, but mail steamers run regular between the latter place and Washington. Steamer John A. Warren arrived from Bermuda. She reports all quiet with Butler's force with the exception of little firing in the direction of Petersburg this morning.

We have no intelligence from Grant's army. No firing has been heard in that direction for three days.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Passengers arriving here to-day, state on the authority of a Captain of a New Jersey regiment, that information of the burning of Bowling Green, Va., by our forces, has been received at the front. It appears that a train of ours was fired upon from the houses, in consequence of which the cavalry escort took the citizens and placed them in two houses standing away from the town, after which the town was set on fire and completely destroyed.

DISPATCH STATION, Va., 8th.—The 1st and 4th division corps received marching orders this morning. It was 3 o'clock in the morning when the men began to march. When day dawned the rebels on the south side of the Chickahominy observed the moving column and opened on it with two guns of very heavy calibre.—Several men were injured while marching in ranks. Col. Hoffman's brigade, 4th division immediately took possession of this side of the railroad bridge. A barricade was thrown across the railroad about 12 miles below this station, between us and the rebel forces on the Chickahominy.

At this point the stream is not more than 100 yards in width, and the bridge is three times as long. All the track is in good running order, though a little rusty from long disuse. During the afternoon the rebels moved a heavy piece of ordnance on a truck and approached within a short distance of the bridge, and threw some 6-inch shells over our men, eliciting considerable criticism from those who happened to make narrow escapes. Rifle-pits were dug, and a long line of fortifications begun. For a long time the skirmishers were friendly and conversed with each other across the river. Before dark they were using every species of device to cause one another to expose their bodies for a mark.

FROM KENTUCKY.

CINCINNATI, June 10.—One of Morgan's men captured at Maysville, reports that the force in Kentucky is under the immediate command of Morgan. Col. Alston's and Col. Smith's total force is about 3,000. A large proportion of them are dismounted cavalry. They entered the State at Pound Gap. A scouting party under Everett was sent ahead to pick up horses for the dismounted men. They then passed through Hazel Green, Owinsville, Flemingsburg, and took Maysville without resistance, robbing citizens of money and other valuables. The Union men were stripped of horses, while those of the rebel citizens were protected. Everett left Maysville Wednesday for Mount Sterling, at which place it is thought Morgan's men concentrated with the intention of attacking Lexington.

The position of affairs in the central part of the State to-day is not known, as communication is broken with Lexington. It is thought that it is the intention of the rebels to destroy all the Railroad possible and make their exit through Central Kentucky and Middle Tennessee. The Kentucky Central Railroad is being repaired. Trains will run to Cynthiana to-morrow.

Gen. Hobson left Covington to-day to open communication with Lexington.

CINCINNATI, June 10.—Gen. Burbridge, who has been following the rebels since they left Pound Gap, came up with them yesterday at Mount Sterling and whipped them handsomely.

A portion of Morgan's command entered Lexington at two o'clock this morning, burned the Kentucky Central Railroad depot and robbed a number of stores, and left at 10 o'clock in the direction of Georgetown and Frankfort. Burbridge is following them.

FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, June 10.—Most of the leading journals of this city to-day devote several columns to an exceedingly interesting communication from Sec'y Seward to the United States Senate relative to the feasability of great advantage to be derived by this country from the projected inter-continental telegraph to unite America to Europe via Behring's Straits and Russia. These journals contain editorial articles highly commendatory of the great project, urging prompt legislation on the part of Congress to enable the company to proceed at once with the vast work.

NEW YORK, June 10.—At the meeting of the associated banks to-day, resolutions to deposit $25,000,000 with the sub-treasury and receive in return 6 per cent. certificates was lost for want of a unanimous vote. Thirty-six voting in favor and fourteen against this, will not prevent affirmative banks from depositing money, and it is probable this will be done while some of the negative banks may yet sign the agreement.

The steamer Kangaroo from Liverpool, returned to Quarantine with a slight damage to her machinery.

FROM HILTON HEAD.

NEW YORK, June 10.—The Arago arrived from Port Royal, 7th, with 300 passengers, including Gen. Gordon and staff. The New Ironsides had arrived at Hilton Head on the evening of the 6th.

Sullivan's Island battery fired two shells at the fleet of wooden vessels, and although the range was not long they fell short.

A blockade runner sloop attempted to come out on the night of the 6th, but grounded and was completely knocked to pieces.

Admiral Dahlgren arrived at Hilton Head on the 7th.

The reported capture of the naval boat Columbine, with 30 colored troops on board, up the St. John's river, Florida, is confirmed.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

NEW YORK, June 10.—The steamer George Washington from New Orleans arrived. The blockade of the Mississippi at Greenville Mississippi is confirmed. Steamers Harry Ames, Mississippi, Olive Branch and others, are lying above Greenville awaiting the result of the engagement which has been going on for two days between the batteries and gunboats. But little if any impression appears to have been made on the batteries. Guerillas are again committing outrages in Louisiana.

THE WAR IN VIRGINIA.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The Tribune's headquarter's correspondence, 8th, says our left wing now extends across the Railroad on the eastern bank of the Chickahominy. The advance in that direction was made yesterday morning by Griffin's and Cutler's brigades, 8th corps, and Sumner's bridge taken after a short encounter. The 18th Massachusetts advanced to the river, driving the enemy's pickets and occupying the bridge. Two North Carolina regiments were on the the opposite side of the river, and a rebel brigade at Meadow Station. Our position is impregnable against any assault.

The Times' special from Staunton, June 6th, says: We met the enemy in force 15 miles north of here and whipped him thoroughly. The rebels were commanded by Jones and Imboden. The former was killed. We pursued them to-day through here with little resistance, though strongly fortified and all males ordered out to defend it. We captured six guns, hundreds of prisoners and thousands of dollars worth of stores. We do not stop. There is a more important point to arrive at. Crook's cavalry are with us.

FROM CHARLESTON.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Tribune's Hilton Head correspondence of June 6th recounts various expeditions in that section on the 22d ult., Col. Von Gilsa, with a detachment from various regiments, among them the 55 Mass., proceeded towards Secessionville. At Battery Island the rebels were charged upon and driven from their earthworks. The 55th nearly annihilated one of the rebel regiments. Reconnoisance being satisfactorily effected, our troops were withdrawn. Firing on Charleston and Fort Sumter is keep up at intervals.

Beauregard had called for 5,000 men to reinforce him, but was told they could not be spared.

There is a prospect that the Keokuk will soon be raised. On the 24th, ult., an expedition moved up the Ashapoo river under Gen. Birney. It met with nothing but misfortune from the start. The steamer Boston got aground and had to be abandoned, when the rebels riddled her.

FROM HUNTER'S COMMAND.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Herald's Special says the enemy are retreating towards Blue Ridge.

Besides 6 guns we captured other arms of heavy calibre. Over a million dollars worth of stores fell into our hands. Railroad property destroyed largely. Some of our prisoners were boys. Our loss is not large. Thaburns brigade suffered most. The enemy's retreat is a complete stampede.

FROM FLORDA.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Herald's correspondent says that on the 1st of June Gen. Gordon made a brilliant dash on the rebels in front of Jacksonville Florida. The rebel camps Finnegan and Milton were flanked while another party attacked them in front. The enemy fled in confusion.

It appears that the gunboat Water Witch was surprised when captured. The rebels boarded her in small boats and before those on board had time to get out they were made prisoners. The Water Witch will be a great acquisition to the rebels.

FROM WASHINGTON.

NEW YORK, June 10.—The Commercial's Washington special says the committee of conference on payment of negro troops have finally agreed to give full pay to those who were free when hostilities commenced.

NEW YORK, June 19.—The Navy Department has not received any information concerning the reported capture of the steamer Water Witch.

BOSTON, June 10.—The schooner Nancy Mills reports that a British steamer left St. George, Bermuda, on the night of the 4th inst., for Wilmington, North Carolina, commanded by Moffit of the Florida. Her mate was the man who shot the engineer of the Chesapeake. She had five heavy guns.

FIRE IN BOSTON.

BOSTON, June 10.—Early this morning a fire broke out in the building Nos. 16 and 17, Row's wharf, occupied by Messrs. Lewis, commission merchants. The building was nearly destroyed, with a large assortment of cotton, flour and West India goods. Loss estimated $50,000; mostly insured.

4 O'clock P. M.

FROM MEXICO.

NEW YORK, June 17.—The Tribune has information that Doalado with 2,000 men attacked an entrenched camp of French, 4,000 strong, between San Luis Potosi and Sattilla, and was defeated with loss of 150 men.

FROM ALBANY.

ALBANY, June 11.—It is rumored in political circles here that the National Democratic Convention called to meet at Chicago July 4th, will be postponed. It is understood the National Democratic Committee have the subject under consideration, and will arrive at some definite conclusion before the 20th.

RROM GEN. BUTLER.

FT. MONROE, June 10.—Wednesday morning a force under Gen. Gilmore made a demonstration on Petersburg and succeeded in carrying the enemies outer earth works with the loss of a few men.

While this was being done, Butler sent a force which succeeded in destroying 3 or 4 miles of the Petersburg and Richmond Railroad without loss.

FROM CAIRO AND BELOW.

CAIRO, June 10.—The steamer Emperor, No. 4, has arrived. No news. When the Emperor passed Columbia, on the 7th, an engagement had taken place between a part of Gen. W. F. Smith's forces and the rebels at Columbia. We are unable to get satisfactory information concerning it.—Our forces are reported to have lost 30 or 40 killed and 70 wounded. The battery at that place had been removed. When the Emperor passed the marine brigade boats were lying at Columbia. Buildings were burning on several plantations above. Smith's fleet was lying about two miles above Columbia.

The steamer Hillman, from Memphis 9th has arrived.

John Callaham, Jack Snower and Thos. Johnson, privates of the 2nd New Jersey cavalry were to be shot at Fort Pickering on the 10 for the crime of rape.

Little doing in the Memphis cotton market. Small stock on hand.

FROM KENTUCKY.

CINCINNATI, June 11.—After leaving Lexington and Georgetown Morgan's main force appears to have turned north, and following the line of the Kentucky Central Railroad attacked the 168th Ohio regiment at Cynthiana this morning, driving them north, burning the town and two trains which left Covington last night and this morning. Morgan is apparently trying to make his way out of the State nearly in the direction he entered.

LOUISVILLE, June 10.—The special train with 200 armed soldiers, which left here at 8 o'clock last evening, reports that it went within 13 miles of Frankfort, and ascertaining that the ordinance train bound here turned back and went toward Frankfort, with an escort of 40 soldiers on board, fighting and following a force of rebels at various points. The rebels had obstructed the road at several places between here and Bagdad, by felling trees and destroying bridges in the rear of the ordinance train as it returned from Bagdad towards Frankfort. It is supposed the train arrived safely at Frankfort, but the telegraph communication is not yet open to that city.

11 P. M.—Private advices from Bagdad report Frankfort as occupied by the rebels this afternoon, but it is discredited here, as headquarters have received no intelligence on the subject.

LOUISVILLE, June 11.—Headquarters received advices that Gov. Bramlette has armed the citizens of Frankfort, and that the fort is well garrisoned and can doubtless hold out until Gen. Burbridge, who at last accounts was at Lexington, shall arrive there.

A second dispatch says that Gen. Carrington commanding the district of Ind. now here received a telegram dated Bagdad, 10:30 this A. M., saying that heavy cannonading in that direction of Frankfort this morning, and still continued at intervals.

About 9 last evening a large fire was seen in that direction, and is reported to be from a burning bridge, about 3 miles this side of Frankfort.

NASHVILLE, June 11.—General order No. 14 from Gen. Sherman prohibits the disinterment of bodies of deceased officers and enlisted men, south of this latitude until the 31st of Oct. next.

INSURE WITH THE PHŒNIX INSURANCE COMPANY, HARTFORD.—Our mode of adjusting losses. Feeling it a special duty I owe to the Phœnix Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., I take great pleasure in expressing my thankfulness for the promptness and liberality they have exhibited in honorably adjusting and paying my claim, for loss sustained by the total destruction of my brick store building and stock of merchandise contained therein in Harrodsburg Ky., a few days since, and upon which I had an insurance in the PHŒNIX.

I am to-day in receipt of the amount of my claim $9,500 sixty days before the same was due, according to the terms of the policy, which is satisfactory evidence in my mind that the PHŒNIX is the Company to do business with.

THE HAUNTED HOUSE.

BY JENNIE CURTIS ("CORA MAY.")

[Written for the Gazette.]

It stood upon a high cliff, whose rocky base was washed by the foaming sea. It was built of stone, and looked like some old half ruined castle with its high turret, and small latticed windows, and the grand old arched entrance, where still swung upon one rusty hing, the heavy, richly carved oaken door. It was about a mile from the little village of D——— where for the time we resided, in hopes that the cool sea breeze would restore the failing health of our mother.

In June, Kate Stanly, one of my dearest friends, came to visit us, and her arrival was hailed with delight, for notwithstanding the unrivaled beauty of the scenery around us, the change from the gayety of city life to the quiet dullness of the country was great, and I was growing very weary of the solitude. Kate should have been a queen, she looked like one with her tall, stately form, her dainty head with its wealth of shining braids wound round it like a coronet, her proud, beautiful face, and large dark eyes, which could flash with a gleam of fire, or melt with indescribable witchery into soft, dreamy tenderness and love. Peerless, queenly Kate!

We set out for a ramble one lovely morning, and wandered along the beach, singing gay snatches of songs, or chatting over some pleasant reminiscence of our childhood's days until we came to the rocky cliff upon whose brow stood the "Haunted House."

I repeated the legend which the villagers had told me, how that a rich old lord St Clare once resided there, with his beautiful daughter Maud. He wished her to marry one whom she could not love, and when she refused to obey him, shut her up in the tower.

One dark night some fishermen returning home saw the casement flung open suddenly, and the flood of light which streamed out from the room revealed the lady Maud kneeling before it with clasped hands. The next moment she sprang out into the ocean that foamed against the rocks, far, far below.

That night her father left with all his servants, and when the villagers arrived there, all was silent and still as the grave. But the spirit of the unfortunate girl still lingers throwing a nameless terror over the place, and the fishermen say that every stormy night a faint blue light gleams out from the little casement, and a slight form flits through the silent halls.

"What a delicious bit of romance," exclaimed Kate, when I had finished, "tho' I do not believe a word about the blue light and the troubled spirit. But we will explore its mystic chambers and see if the beautiful spirit will make itself visible to us."

I drew back in alarm, for I was naturally very timid.

"Now Addie, I hope you are not afraid. What could harm us in the full light of day. Don't be so childish, but follow me."

Away the beautiful girl bounded up the rocky path, and I followed, though my heart throbbed fast and hard with fear.

We paused a moment under the grand doorway, then pushing open the heavy door entered in. The hall was large and lofty and doors opened from it on either side. We passed silently through the deserted rooms, which still bore traces of their former grandeur and beauty, then we came to a winding staircase, which we knew must lead up into the tower. I begged Kate not to go up. She passed her arm caressingly around me and said, "Now, Addie, pray come; we shall not find anything but desolate dusty rooms, like those we have already explored. And indeed, I must look out upon the sea from that little window, must stand a moment upon that quaint little balcony from which the beautiful Maud sprang into the foaming sea. I have thoughts of purchasing this old mansion, for it is wrong to let such a building crumble away to ruins. Lightly she tripped up the broad winding stairs, and ashamed of my weakness I followed until we stood before a closed door.

"This must be the room, shall I rap?" Her merry laugh echoed strangely through the empty rooms. She pushed open the door and we entered. The room was furnished luxuriantly, and everything was arranged in the most exquisite order. A veiled picture hung upon the wall and Kate dr... ...ow the light covering aside. "My God! what does that mean? Look Addie!" The reflection of Kate's own beautiful face in a mirror could not have been more like her than the face which glowed upon the canvas. There was the same queenly head, adorned with shining braids, the same proud, lovely face, only the eyes were melting with tenderness and love, and the haughty curve of the crimson lips was lost in the sunny smile that hovered over them. The proud fearless Kate trembled, and her face grew pallid with fear. Still she gazed on the picture, with parted lips, her breast heaving fast and hard, yet there beside her stood a woman, wrinkled, gray and bent with age, tears raining down her furrowed cheeks in torrents.

"Oh! my lady, my beautiful Maud," she exclaimed, "now I can die in peace, for I have seen you once again. That was your mother," she continued, pointing to the picture, "the dear beautiful lady Maud, and I was her nurse, and—."

But Kate had fainted, the shock was too great for her. I had stood silent with wonder and awe until then my senses returned, I chafed her cold hand... ...lips until ... and kissed her white ... opened her eyes again ... the woman gave her some wine, which quickly restored her, and she took the withered hand in hers and said: "Is it true, or is it a dream; what you have told me?"

"Yes, yes, all true, though it seemed like a dream when I saw you standing there so like your mother. Ah, woe, woe is me that the lady Maud sleeps in the ocean, and curses upon him who broke her heart and drove her to dispair. "Go on, woman, tell me quickly." Yes, yes, I will." Your mother loved the young Lord Aubery, but there was trouble between the old families, though the young lord knew nothing about it, so; when he came to her father and asked for her hand. St. Clare turned him from his door and said, "Sir, I would plunge a dagger to her heart, rather than see her your bride. Go, sir, and never dare to breath her name again, nor darken my door with your hateful presence." Ah, you should have seen him then, your father, dear, as he drew himself up proudly and said. "Sir, had you been any one but the father of my darling Maud, neither your rank, titles nor your gray hairs would have saved you, for those insulting words would have been your last. As it is, I go sir, but Maud shall yet be my bride, so sure as there is a God in heaven." Soon after Lord St Clare was called away on business which detained him several months. Immediately on his departure they were privately married by the pastor that christened the lady Maud. The day of his return, my Lord, bade her prepare for an immediate journey to America, saying I should go with her. She had only time to pen a hasty note to her husband, for ere the morrow's sunset we were far out on the ocean. The voyage was long and stormy, but we finally arrived in New York. Her father secured board for us in a private family, and then left us to look at the country, and if he liked it, make a home for us there. I was glad to have him go, for he would have known it all soon. Finally you were born. Oh, how she cried over you, and hugged you to her heart. But we had planned it all out before, so I took you from her arms, and wrapped you in the blanket she had embroidered for you with her own dainty fingers, and carried you to the door of a grand house near by, where lived Mr. Stanley and his wife. I had never seen them, but had heard that they were kind, good people. I set the basket upon the steps, rang the bell violently, then darted around the corner, into the house before they came to the door. They kept the child, so our secret was safe, and when my lord returned, she was quite well, and he brought us to this place.

Soon after Sir William Thornly came, and I saw at once that trouble was coming. He fell in love with her at once, and my lord promised him her hand. I think lord St. Clare must have been under some great obligation to him. But Maud refused him of course, and he shut her up in this room, saying she should never come out except as the bride of Sir William. He even appointed the wedding day, had every preparation made, and a minister waiting to marry them, but when she heard them coming for her she opened the window and sprang into the sea. That very night lord St. Clare took us all to New York, and engaged a passage back to England. I had saved quite a little fortune from my wages, so I managed to get left behind, for I could not bear to leave the little babe alone; I felt that I must stay and watch over it. So I came back here, and have stayed in this old turret, keeping everything as it used to be."

"Oh, Addie! Can it be true?" Katie's eyes were full of tears.

"True, said the woman, true as heaven. Here is your mother's journal, you shall see for yourself." It was a small, nicely bound book with golden clasps, written full in a fine delicate hand, alas! it was all true. "But my father, where was he all this time." "Your mother wrote to him upon our arrival in New York, and again when you were born, but the servants who came after we did, said that Lord Aubrey started in the next vessel that sailed, in search of his wife, and had never been heard of since.

"Are you certain this is the place?"

Yes, your honor, yonder is the little balcony from which."——

"That will do sir, I have heard the story before. Leave me now."

"It'll be as much as your life is worth to go into the old ruins, for of a stormy night there are strange lights flitting about and——

The rest of his story was left unfinished, for the gentleman had disappeared in the maze of desolate, dusty rooms, and his frightened guide ran home in breathless haste. He sought the old turret, followed up the winding stairs, but paused at the door of the little room, for he heard voices within. He was a fine looking man, with an unmistakable air of refinement about him, yet upon his face was written traces of mighty sorrow which had swept over his life. Something in the confused murmur of voices startled him, for the next moment he sprang into the room, and clasping Katie to his breast, he exclaimed, "Maud, my darling. Oh! Margary, tell me, is it my lost wife?" The old woman threw herself at his feet and cried, "God be praised, for this is Lord Aubrey himself," and the faithful creature sobbed and wept like a child, unable to utter another word. But Kate, peerless, beautiful Kate, sprang from his arms and drawing the veil from the picture aside, exclaimed, "See this is Maud."

Pale and faint with the overwhelming excitement of the hour, Lord Aubery sank upon his knees before the beautiful vision. "Oh, Maud, Maud, dearly beloved, have I only this lifeless shadow of your loveliness to reward me for these years of sorrow and hopeless search for you?"

He bowed his head and wept, this strong proud man. Kate glided softly to his side, twined her white arms about his neck, and mingled her tears with his. Margary drew near and said, "Look my Lord, this is your child and Maud's," and in a few words she repeated what we have already heard. He folded her to his heart and pressed kisses upon brow and lip, and exclaimed "I thank God for this blessing, that He hath not left me altogether desolate." And Kate, lifted her tearful face, and a tender, beautiful smile full of love, brightened it as she murmured softly, "Father, dear father!"

Great was the astonishment of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley when Kate returned to them accompanied by her father. Lord Aubrey insisted upon taking her back with him to his proud ancestral halls, and persuaded them to accompany her. And now that stately castle is filled with life, and beauty, and joy, and the young "Lady Maud" beloved and admired by all with her winsome ways and loving heart cheers and brightens the desolate life of the father who hath suffered so long, and who still mourns the unhappy fate of his wife, the beautiful Lady Maud.

MORTALITY IN OUR ARMY HOSPITALS.—The Washington Chronicle says: "It is to be expected that the mortality in the hospitals of Washington will ... be proportionately greater for ... other hospitals ... than in any ... in the country for obvious reasons. A large part of the inmates of these hospitals are men wounded so badly that they cannot bear transportation to the more northerly cities. Very many of them are soldiers who were obliged to be kept at Fredericksburg until they had gained strength just sufficient to enable them to be carried on stretchers to a boat, and conveyed on stretchers to the hospitals on arrival here. Consequently, we may anticipate in these cases a much heavier rate of motality than among those who, having been more slightly wounded, were conveyed to hospitals in other cities.

"In ordinary cases, our hospitals exhibit a smaller percentage of deaths than any milithay hospitals in Europe as their statistics will show."

MAKING THE GIRLS GLAD.—A school-boy down East, who was noted among his playfellows for his frolics among the girls, was reading in the Old Testament, when coming to the phrase, "making waste places glad," he was asked what it meant. The youngster paused scratched his head, but gave no answer, when up jumped a more precocious urchin, and cried out, "I know what it means, master. It means hugging the gals; for Tom Ross is allers huggin' 'em around the waiste, and it makes 'em glad as can be."

CAUSES OF DISEASE.

BY DR. PRICE.

Before proceeding to describe the causes of diseases, it is necessary to give a general description of the supply and waste of the human body in health, to enable a person to comprehend its diseased condition. A man of 140 lbs. weight receives annually into his lungs 900 lbs. of Oxygen; into his stomach 1,500 lbs. of water, and 800 lbs. of solid food; 3,200 lbs., or over one and a half tons. This one and a half tons is discharged from the body through the intestinal canal, kidneys, lungs, skin and mucous membranes. During the passage of water and food through the intestinal canal, the nourishing portions are absorbed by the lacteals into the thoracic duct, and is emptied into the blood before it enters the lungs. The Oxygen which enters the lungs at every inspiration is absorbed into the blood, and the Carbon in the blood is given off to the atmosphere at every expiration. The blood then returns from the lungs to the left ventricle, laden with all the materials for supplying the tissues, and is distributed to every part of the body.

During the disposition of this amount of nourishment there has an equal amount of matter which formed a part of the body been decomposed and carried in the blood to the lungs, kidneys, bowels and skin, for removal. In youth, the supply is greater than the waste, and the body increases in weight. In middle age, the supply and waste is about the same. In old age, the waste is greater than the supply, with few exceptions. The perverted action of the waste and supply of the system is its diseased condition, and pain is the result. The approximate and remote causes of disease are numerous, and the work of man, and not his Maker. In support of this assertion, it is only necessary to refer to final causes, to establish the fact that pain, sickness and premature death were ends contemplated in the creation, is a supposition with all that nature elsewhere teaches of the benevolence of the Creator, from the fact that wild animals and reptiles are almost or wholly exempt from disease, although many of them inhabit regions more filled with miasms (!) than any of the abodes of men. Tamer animals, subjected more to the influences of man's mode of life, are liable to some few diseases.

Instance, fowls and pet animals, as deer, rabbits, &c. The most highly domesticated are subject to the most numerous and fatal diseases, and to some, even, that are contagious. Instance, horses, cattle, sheep, dogs, &c. And the maladies of the human race are found to surpass those of the brutes in number, complication and fatality, to a degree fully as great as that in which man's habits are more artificial and unnatural than theirs. Still farther, those among the human species who lead the most artificial life, are ever the most subject to disease. There, then, is proof written in sunbeams! There we have a regular series of result,—step by step departing from the condition of simple nature; and by the same steps, departing from the highest strength and happiness, and sinking into an atmosphere of pain, disease and premature death. Diseases then are not chargeable on "chances," or "Nature," or "Providence;" they are the results of unnatural habits and conditions of life. Man brings disease upon himself from inattention, recklessness or ignorance upon the part of himself or parents. God does not willingly give his children pain, therefore disease comes not from Him. Of the most unnatural habits and conditions, I will enumerate the most important.

Over taxation of the body or the mind, in the form of excessive bodily or mental labor, the anxieties, hurries and perplexities in business, anger, excitements of the feelings, deep emotions, excessive indulgence of the passions. This last cause produces more incompetency for successful exertion and leads to more diseases, a hundred fold more, than is ever dreamed of by the mass of community. The person who abuses gifts God has given, indulges to excess, frequent in fits of passion, easily angered, without patience, fails to control their temper, must perish prematurely. For all these wear out, consume, and subtract from the powers of life faster than by rest and nourishment, we can add to, repair, and reinvigorate them. Indolence, or want of due exercise of the entire body, or of certain limbs or organs. To overtax some parts, and undertax others at the same time, is doubly to invite the inroads of disease. Mechanical causes—of these, by far the most prolific of evils is an unnatural mode of dress. This may injure in numberless ways—by cramping the organs, compressing limbs, overheating some parts, exposing others to cold, dragging upon weaker parts, checking circulation, respiration, and free motion, and forming unnatural postures, narrowness of chest, and every species of deformity. Hereditary predisposition, or the transfer of diseased condition from a parent to a child. It is thought this, in a good degree, that all along the pathway of infancy and childhood, a portion of our whole existence, naturally the brightest, the fullest of promise, our dear little ones are made to drop suddenly from our grasp, and people our grave yards with the dead before their time! Consuming too much food, overeating, another important cause for disease, most eat too much, and by it life is made a burden, a torture, a living death. Some eat to live, most live to eat. Gluttony kills hundreds. Bad air, useless exposures to heat and cold becomes the cause of deep seated and fatal diseases. My readers will see that I have barely room for text, but they can amplify these into sermons by a little reflection. It is not to late to learn how to live. I treat exclusively diseases of a chronic nature, such as Throat, Lung, Liver, Heart, Kidney, Stomach and Blood diseases.

And cure such diseases if curable, without medicines injurious to the constitution, the necessity of abandoning business or involving expense. Many object to call on me because I travel and visit appointed places, having been imposed upon so often by traveling quacks. I am not of that class of pretenders, as you will perceive by my writings. I adhere strictly to the principles of honor and integrity. My visits have been made regularly for years, and will be so continued. I claim to no more knowledge than may be acquired by any intelligent physician by the same experience, time, and entire devotion to the treatment of this class of diseases. The great difficulty is patients wait until they have tried every nostrum before they call on me; their constitutions are then run down, and it embarrasses a cure, but notwithstanding these retarding influences my success is unparalleled.

My system of treating disease harmonizes with nature. My first principle is to remove the cause. Having done this, in the early stages of disease, there is no difficulty in effecting a cure. The sick are invited to call, an unbiased opinion invariably given. Consultation free, and no encouragement of a cure unless there is a known chance for recovery. In my future publications I shall speak more particularly of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Lung and Liver diseases.

I shall be at Janesville on my usual visit for consultation upon all Chronic diseases, during Saturday and Sunday, the 25 and 26th of June. Office at the Hyatt House. DR. V. CLARENCE PRICE.

WOOLEN FACTORY,

Janesville, Wis.

The subscriber at the Factory known as the

"STONE MILLS,"

on the Monterey Water Power, has two sets of wide machinery in full operation, and is now putting in the third set, making it the

and about three times as large as the other Factories in the State.

Having a large establishment he is enabled to employ better workmen, do business to better advantage and with more promptness, and offer to customers better inducements for their patronage than can be done at any other mill in the State.

Those who have used the cloths made at this mill, both by myself and tenants for the past 12 years can bear witness to their superior quality. If other testimony were needed, the following from the dry goods article in the Chicago Tribune, of November 4th, 1863, might be added:

"The trade in woolen goods is now unusually brisk, and rarely if ever have we seen such a large and varied stock in market. It is noticeable also that the best qualities are of domestic manufacture, and quite a large assortment of Western goods are offered. Some of the best plain cassimeres in market at present are manufactured—not in England nor France—nor even in the Eastern States—but in Wisconsin and in several portions of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. The goods sent to our market from the "Stone Mills," Janesville, (as exhibited by their agents, Bowen Bros., of this city,) deserve special mention because of their excellence in every particular, and because we consider it our duty as a journalist to aid and foster home manufactures."

Customers may rely upon having their work done promptly, and from June 15th to Sept. 15th at the following extremely low rates.

TERMS OF EXCHANGE:

For 1½ lbs. of wool a yard of Jeans, Tweed or Union Cassimere.
For 1½ lbs. of wool a yard of Satinett or Flannel.
For 2 lbs. of wool a yard of Cassimere, either plain or fancy.

PRICES FOR MANUFACTURING:

ABRAHAM LINCOLN,

OF ILLINOIS.

For Vice-President,

ANDREW JOHNSON,

OF TENNESSEE.

THE HAUNTED HOUSE.

BY JENNIE CURTIS ("CORA MAY.")

It stood upon a high cliff, whose rocky base was washed by the foaming sea. It was built of stone, and looked like some old half ruined castle with its high turret, and small latticed windows, and the grand old arched entrance, where still swung upon one rusty hing, the heavy, richly carved oaken door. It was about a mile from the little village of D——— where for the time we resided, in hopes that the cool sea breeze would restore the failing health of our mother.

In June, Kate Stanly, one of my dearest friends, came to visit us, and her arrival was hailed with delight, for notwithstanding the unrivaled beauty of the scenery around us, the change from the gayety of city life to the quiet dullness of the country, was great, and I was growing very weary of the solitude. Kate should have been a queen, she looked like one with her tall, stately form, her dainty head with its wealth of shining braids wound round it like a coronet, her proud, beautiful face, and large dark eyes, which could flash with a gleam of fire, or melt with indescribable witchery into soft, dreamy tenderness and love. Peerless, queenly Kate!

We set out for a ramble one lovely morning, and wandered along the beach, singing gay snatches of songs, or chatting over some pleasant reminiscence of our childhood's days until we came to the rocky cliff upon whose brow stood the "Haunted House."

I repeated the legend which the villagers had told me, how that a rich old lord St Clare once resided there, with his beautiful daughter Maud. He wished her to marry one whom she could not love, and when she refused to obey him, shut her up in the tower.

One dark night some fishermen returning home saw the casement flung open suddenly, and the flood of light which streamed out from the room revealed the lady Maud kneeling before it with clasped hands. The next moment she sprang out into the ocean that foamed against the rocks, far, far below.

That night her father left with all his servants, and when the villagers arrived there, all was silent and still as the grave. But the spirit of the unfortunate girl still lingers, throwing a nameless terror over the place, and the fishermen say that every stormy night a faint blue light gleams out from the little casement, and a slight form flits through the silent halls.

"What a delicious bit of romance," exclaimed Kate, when I had finished, "tho' I do not believe a word about the blue light and the troubled spirit. But we will explore its mystic chambers and see if the beautiful spirit will make itself visible to us."

I drew back in alarm, for I was naturally very timid.

"Now Addie, I hope you are not afraid. What could harm us in the full light of day. Don't be so childish, but follow me." Away the beautiful girl bounded up the rocky path, and I followed, though my heart throbbed fast and hard with fear.

We paused a moment under the grand doorway, then pushing open the heavy door entered in. The hall was large and lofty and doors opened from it on either side. We passed silently through the deserted rooms, which still bore traces of their former grandeur and beauty, then we came to a winding staircase, which we knew must lead up into the tower. I begged Kate not to go up. She passed her arm caressingly around me and said, "Now, Addie, pray come; we shall not find anything but desolate dusty rooms, like those we have already explored. And indeed, I must look out upon the sea from that little window, must stand a moment upon that quaint little balcony from which the beautiful Maud sprang into the foaming sea. I have thoughts of purchasing this old mansion, for it is wrong to let such a building crumble away to ruins. Lightly she tripped up the broad winding stairs, and ashamed of my weakness I followed until we stood before a closed door.

"This must be the room, shall I rap?" Her merry laugh echoed strangely through the empty rooms. She pushed open the door and we entered. The room was furnished luxuriantly, and everything was arranged in the most exquisite order. A veiled picture hung upon the wall and Kate d[rew] [illegible] the light covering aside. "My God! what does that mean? Look Addie!" The reflection of Kate's own beautiful face in a mirror could not have been more like her than the face which glowed upon the canvas. There was the same queenly head, adorned with shining braids, the same proud, lovely face, only the eyes were melting with tenderness and love, and the haughty curve of the crimson lips was lost in the sunny smile that hovered over them. The proud fearless Kate trembled, and her face grew pallid with fear. Still she gazed on the picture, with parted lips, her breast heaving fast and hard, yet there beside her stood a woman, wrinkled, gray and bent with age, tears raining down her furrowed cheeks in torrents.

"Oh! my lady, my beautiful Maud," she exclaimed, "now I can die in peace, for I have seen you once again. That was your mother," she continued, pointing to the picture, "the dear beautiful lady Maud, and I was her nurse, and——.

But Kate had fainted, the shock was too great for her. I had stood silent with wonder and awe until then my senses returned, I chafed her cold han[ds] [illegible] re[illegible] lips until [illegible] and kissed her white [illegible] she opened her eyes again [illegible] the woman gave her some wine, which quickly restored her, and she took the withered hand in hers and said: "Is it true, or is it a dream; what you have told me?"

"Yes, yes, all true, though it seemed like a dream when I saw you standing there so like your mother. Ah, woe, woe is me that the lady Maud sleeps in the ocean, and curses upon him who broke her heart and drove her to dispair. "Go on, woman, tell me quickly." "Yes, yes, I will." Your mother loved the young Lord Aubery, but there was trouble between the old families, though the young lord knew nothing about it, so when he came to her father and asked for her hand. St. Clare turned him from his door and said, "Sir, I would plunge a dagger to her heart, rather than see her your bride. Go, sir, and never dare to breath her name again, nor darken my door with your hateful presence." Ah, you should have seen him then, your father, dear, as he drew himself up proudly and said, "Sir, had you been any one but the father of my darling Maud, neither your rank, titles nor your gray hairs would have saved you, for those insulting words would have been your last. As it is, I go sir, but Maud shall yet be my bride, so sure as there is a God in heaven." Soon after Lord St Clare was called away on business, which detained him several months. Immediately on his departure they were privately married by the pastor that christened the lady Maud. The day of his return, my Lord bade her prepare for an immediate journey to America, saying I should go with her. She had only time to pen a hasty note to her husband, for ere the morrow's sunset we were far out on the ocean. The voyage was long and stormy, but we finally arrived in New York. Her father secured board for us in a private family, and then left us to look at the country, and if he liked it, make a home for us there. I was glad to have him go, for he would have known it all soon. Finally you were born. Oh, how she cried over you, and hugged you to her heart. But we had planned it all out before; so I took you from her arms, and wrapped you in the blanket she had embroidered for you with her own dainty fingers, and carried you to the door of a grand house near by, where lived Mr. Stanley and his wife. I had never seen them, but had heard that they were kind, good people. I set the basket upon the steps, rang the bell violently, then darted around the corner, into the house before they came to the door. They kept the child, so our secret was safe, and when my lord returned, she was quite well, and he brought us to this place.

Soon after Sir William Thornly came, and I saw at once that trouble was coming. He fell in love with her at once, and my lord promised him her hand. I think lord St. Clare must have been under some great obligation to him. But Maud refused him of course, and he shut her up in this room, saying she should never come out except as the bride of Sir William. He even appointed the wedding day, had every preparation made, and a minister waiting to marry them, but when she heard them coming for her she opened the window and sprang into the sea. That very night lord St. Clare took us all to New York, and engaged a passage back to England. I had saved quite a little fortune from my wages, so I managed to get left behind, for I could not bear to leave the little babe alone; I felt that I must stay and watch over it. So I came back here, and have stayed in this old turret, keeping everything as it used to be."

"Oh, Addie! Can it be true?" Katie's eyes were full of tears.

"True, said the woman, true as heaven. Here is your mother's journal, you shall see for yourself." It was a small, nicely bound book with golden clasps, written full in a fine delicate hand, alas! it was all true. "But my father, where was he all this time." "Your mother wrote to him upon our arrival in New York, and again when you were born, but the servants who came after we did, said that Lord Aubrey started in the next vessel that sailed, in search of his wife, and had never been heard of since.

"Are you certain this is the place?"

Yes, your honor, yonder is the little balcony from which."——

"That will do sir, I have heard the story before. Leave me now."

"I'll be as much as your life is worth to go into the old ruins, for of a stormy night there are strange lights flitting about and——

The rest of his story was left unfinished, for the gentleman had disappeared in the maze of desolate, dusty rooms, and his frightened guide ran home in breathless haste. He sought the old turret, followed up the winding stairs, but paused at the door of the little room, for he heard voices within. He was a fine looking man, with an unmistakable air of refinement about him, yet upon his face was written traces of mighty sorrow which had swept over his life. Something in the confused murmur of voices startled him, for the next moment he sprang into the room, and clasping Katie to his breast, he exclaimed, "Maud, my darling. Oh! Margary, tell me, is it my lost wife?" The old woman threw herself at his feet and cried, "God be praised, for this is Lord Aubrey himself," and the faithful creature sobbed and wept like a child, unable to utter another word. But Kate, peerless, beautiful Kate, sprang from his arms and drawing the veil from the picture aside, exclaimed, "See this is Maud."

Pale and faint with the overwhelming excitement of the hour, Lord Aubery sank upon his knees before the beautiful vision. "Oh, Maud, Maud, dearly beloved, have I only this lifeless shadow of your loveliness to reward me for these years of sorrow and hopeless search for you?"

He bowed his head and wept, this strong proud man. Kate glided softly to his side, twined her white arms about his neck, and mingled her tears with his. Margary drew near and said, "Look my Lord, this is your child and Maud's," and in a few words she repeated what we have already heard. He folded her to his heart and pressed kisses upon brow and lip, and exclaimed "I thank God for this blessing, that He hath not left me altogether desolate." And Kate, lifted her tearful face, and a tender, beautiful smile full of love, brightened it as she murmured softly, "Father, dear father!"

Great was the astonishment of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley when Kate returned to them accompanied by her father. Lord Aubrey insisted upon taking her back with him to his proud ancestral halls, and persuaded them to accompany her. And now that stately castle is filled with life, and beauty, and joy, and the young "Lady Maud" beloved and admired by all with her winsome ways and loving heart cheers and brightens the desolate life of the father who hath suffered so long, and who still mourns the unhappy fate of his wife, the beautiful Lady Maud.

MORTALITY IN OUR ARMY HOSPITALS.—The Washington Chronicle says: "It is to be expected that the mortality in th[e] hospitals of Washington will [illegible] [propor]tionately greater for [illegible] be, proportionately [illegible] other hospitals [illegible] ame than in any reas[on] [illegible] in the country for obvious [rea]sons. A large part of the inmates of these hospitals are men wounded so badly that they cannot bear transportation to the more northerly cities. Very many of them are soldiers who were obliged to be kept at Fredericksburg until they had gained strength just sufficient to enable them to be carried on stretchers to a boat, and conveyed on stretchers to the hospitals on arrival here. Consequently, we may anticipate in these cases a much heavier rate of motality than among those who, having been more slightly wounded, were conveyed to hospitals in other cities.

"In ordinary cases, our hospitals exhibit a smaller percentage of deaths than any milithay hospitals in Europe as their statistics will show."

MAKING THE GIRLS GLAD.—A school-boy down East, who was noted among his playfellows for his frolics among the girls, was reading in the Old Testament, when coming to the phrase, "making waste places glad," he was asked what it meant. The youngster paused scratched his head, but gave no answer, when up jumped a more precocious urchin, and cried out, "I know what it means, master. It means hugging the gals; for Tom Ross is allers huggin' 'em around the waiste, and it makes 'em glad as can be."

CAUSES OF DISEASE.

BY DR. PRICE.

Before proceeding to describe the causes of disease, it is necessary to give a general description of the supply and waste of the human body in health, to enable a person to comprehend its diseased condition. A man of 140 lbs. weight receives annually into his lungs 900 lbs. of Oxygen; into his stomach 1,000 lbs. of water, and 800 lbs. of solid food; 3,200 lbs., or over one and a half tons. This one and a half tons is discharged from the body through the intestinal canal, kidneys, lungs, skin and mucous membranes. During the passage of water and food through the intestinal canal, the nourishing portions are absorbed by the lacteals into the thoracic duct, and is emptied into the blood before it enters the lungs. The Oxygen which enters the lungs at every inspiration is absorbed into the blood, and the Carbon in the blood is given off to the atmosphere at every expiration. The blood then returns from the lungs to the left ventricle, laden with all the materials for supplying the tissues, and is distributed to every part of the body.

During the disposition of this amount of nourishment there has an equal amount of matter which formed a part of the body been decomposed, and carried in the blood to the lungs, kidneys, bowels and skin, for removal. In youth, the supply is greater than the waste, and the body increases in weight. In middle age, the supply and waste is about the same. In old age, the waste is greater than the supply, with few exceptions. The perverted action of the waste and supply of the system is its diseased condition, and pain is the result. The approximate and remote causes of disease are numerous, and the work of man, and not his Maker. In support of this assertion, it is only necessary to refer to final causes, to establish the fact that pain, sickness and premature death were ends contemplated in the creation, is a supposition with all that nature elsewhere teaches of the benevolence of the Creator, from the fact that wild animals and reptiles are almost or wholly exempt from disease, although many of them inhabit regions more filled with miasma (!) than any of the abodes of men. Tamer animals, subjected more to the influences of man's mode of life, are liable to some few diseases.

Instance, fowls and pet animals, as deer, rabbits, &c. The most highly domesticated are subject to the most numerous and fatal diseases, and to some, even, that are contagious. Instance, horses, cattle, sheep, dogs, &c. And the maladies of the human race are found to surpass those of the brutes in number, complication and fatality, to a degree fully as great as that in which man's habits are more artificial and unnatural than theirs. Still farther, those among the human species who lead the most artificial life, are ever the most subject to disease. There, then, is proof written in sunbeams! There we have a regular series of result,—step by step departing from the condition of simple nature; and by the same steps, departing from the highest strength and happiness, and sinking into an atmosphere of pain, disease and premature death. Diseases then are not chargeable on "chances," or "Nature," or "Providence;" they are the results of unnatural habits and conditions of life. Man brings disease upon himself from inattention, recklessness or ignorance upon the part of himself or parents. God does not willingly give his children pain, therefore disease comes not from Him. Of the most unnatural habits and conditions, I will enumerate the most important.

Over taxation of the body or the mind, in the form of excessive bodily or mental labor, the anxieties, hurries and perplexities in business, anger, excitements of the feelings, deep emotions, excessive indulgence of the passions. This last cause produces more incompetency for successful exertion and leads to more diseases, a hundred fold more, than is ever dreamed of by the mass of community. The person who abuses gifts God has given, indulges to excess, frequent in fits of passion, easily angered, without patience, fails to control their temper, must perish prematurely. For all these wear out, consume, and subtract from the powers of life faster than by rest and nourishment, we can add to, repair, and reinvigorate them. Indolence, or want of due exercise of the entire body, or of certain limbs or organs. To overtax some parts, and undertax others at the same time, is doubly to invite the inroads of disease. Mechanical causes—of these, by far the most prolific of evils is an unnatural mode of dress. This may injure in numberless ways—by cramping the organs, compressing limbs, overheating some parts, exposing others to cold, dragging upon weaker parts, checking circulation, respiration, and free motion, and forming unnatural postures, narrowness of chest, and every species of deformity. Hereditary predisposition, or the transfer of diseased condition from a parent to a child. It is thought this, in a good degree, that all along the pathway of infancy and childhood, a portion of our whole existence, naturally the brightest, the fullest of promise, our dear little ones are made to drop suddenly from our grasp, and people our grave yards with the dead before their time! Consuming too much food, overeating, another important cause for disease, most eat too much, and by it life is made a burden, a torture, a living death. Some eat to live, most live to eat. Gluttony kills hundreds. Bad air, useless exposures to heat and cold becomes the cause of deep-seated and fatal diseases. My readers will see that I have barely room for text, but they can amplify these into sermons by a little reflection. It is not to late to learn how to live. I treat exclusively diseases of a chronic nature, such as Throat, Lung, Liver, Heart, Kidney, Stomach and Blood diseases.

And cure such diseases if curable, without medicines injuries to the constitution, the necessity of abandoning business or involving expense. Many object to call on me because I travel and visit appointed places, having been imposed upon so often by traveling quacks. I am not of that class of pretenders, as you will perceive by my writings. I adhere strictly to the principles of honor and integrity. My visits have been made regularly for years, and will be so continued. I claim to no more knowledge than may be acquired by any intelligent physician by the same experience, time, and entire devotion to the treatment of this class of diseases. The great difficulty is patients wait until they have tried every nostrum before they call on me; their constitutions are then run down, and it embarrasses a cure, but notwithstanding these retarding influences my success is unparalleled.

My system of treating diseases harmonizes with nature. My first principle is to remove the cause. Having done this, in the early stages of disease, there is no difficulty in effecting a cure. The sick are invited to call, an unbiased opinion invariably given. Consultation free, and no encouragement of a cure unless there is a known chance for recovery. In my future publications I shall speak more particularly of Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Lung and Liver diseases.

I shall be at Janesville on my usual visit for consultation upon all Chronic diseases, during Saturday and Sunday, the 25 and 26th of June. Office at the Hyatt House. DR. V. CLARENCE PRICE.

LYON'S KATHAIRON.

LYON'S KATHAIRON.—Kathairon is from the Greek word "Kathro," or "Kathairo," signifying to cleanse, rejuvenate, and restore. This article is what its name signifies. For preserving, restoring, and beautifying the human hair, it is the most remarkable preparation in the world. It is again owned and put up by the original proprietor, and is now made with the same care, skill, and attention which gave it a sale of over one million bottles per annum.

It is a most delightful Hair Dressing.

It eradicates scurf and dandruff.

It keeps the head cool and clean.

It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy.

It prevents the hair from falling off and turning grey.

It restores hair upon bald heads.

Any lady or gentleman who values a beautiful head of hair should use Lyon's Kathairon. It is known and used throughout the civilized world. Sold by all respectable dealers. DEMAS S. BARNES & CO., Proprietors, New York.

WOOLEN FACTORY,

Janesville, Wis.

The subscriber at the Factory known as the

"STONE MILLS,"

on the Monterey Water Power, has two sets of wide machinery in full operation, and is now putting in the third set, making it the

Largest Mill in the Northwest,

and about three times as large as the other Factories in the State.

Having a large establishment he is enabled to employ better workmen, do business to better advantage and with more promptness, and offer to customers better inducements for their patronage than can be done at any other mill in the State.

Those who have used the cloths made at this mill, both by myself and tenants for the past 12 years can bear witness to their superior quality. If other testimony were needed, the following from the dry goods article in the Chicago Tribune, of November 4th, 1863, might be added:

"The trade in woolen goods is now unusually brisk, and rarely if ever have we seen such a large and varied stock in market. It is noticeable also that the best qualities are of domestic manufacture, and quite a large assortment of Western goods are offered. Some of the best plain cassimeres in market at present are manufactured—not in England nor France—nor even in the Eastern States—but in Wisconsin and in several portions of Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. The goods sent to our market from the "Stone Mills," Janesville, (as exhibited by their agents, Bowen Bros., of this city,) deserve special mention because of their excellence in every particular, and because we consider it our duty as a journalist to aid and foster home manufactures."

Customers may rely upon having their work done promptly, and from June 15th to Sept. 15th at the following extremely low rates.

TERMS OF EXCHANGE:

For 1¼ lbs. of wool a yard of Jeans, Tweed or Union Cassimere.

For 1¾ lbs. of wool a yard of Satinett or Flannel.

For 2 lbs. of wool a yard of Cassimere, either plain or fancy.

PRICES FOR MANUFACTURING:

50 lbs or more of wool, from 15 to 25 cents per yard, according to the kind of cloth made.

Roll Carding, where the bundles are 15 lbs or more, 4 cents per lb.

Cloth Dressing of all kinds done from 10 to 20 cents per yard.

Persons living at a distance can send their wool by Railroad or by Express, with full directions, and have their wool or cloth promptly returned to them.

A good assortment of CLOTHS for sale 25 per cent lower than they can be bought at any other place in town. F. WHITAKER.

SATURDAY, JUNE 11, 1864.

A man fifty years old, who cuts his hair regularly, will have removed from his head over thirteen feet, or twice his own length. Of beard, twenty-five years takes off eight feet. This cutting and shaving is attended with a great increase of the juice which nourishes the hair, a part of which is lost by evaporation from the stumps of the hairs. Bichet, the celebrated French physiologist, attributes to the superior strength of the ancients to the custom of wearing the beard.

The following conversation with a wounded rebel in one of the Washington hospitals is reported: "What are you fighting for?" "Our independence." Haven't you always had your independence?" "Yes, until this muss broke out." "Who fired first?" Why, I suppose we did; as long as there was some firing to be done we thought we might as well commence!"

ROCK CO., WISCONSIN, LANDS FOR SALE BY AUCTION.

Will be sold by auction, on

Thursday the 23d of June Next,

in the city of Janesville, Rock county, Wisconsin, thirty-eight hundred and forty (3840) acres of the finest agricultural lands in the State. They are situated about ten miles from Janesville, and adjoining the village of Footville, with the Beloit & Madison Railroad running through them, and the Milwaukee & Southern Wisconsin Railroad on their border and are composed of about an equal quantity of heavy "grove" timber and prairie. They were selected for their present owner for investment, nearly thirty years ago, as the best lands, in all respects, in Rock county, and this county, it is well known, is the garden of Wisconsin.

They will be sold in farm parcels, and the purchase money, less twenty or twenty-five per cent, which must be paid in cash, may remain on mortgage at seven per cent. interest, for seven or ten years, excepting timber lots which will be sold for cash.

There will also be sold at the same time and place, and in the same manner, but wholly for cash, twenty two hundred (2,200) acres of prime lands in Marathon county, near the town of Wausau, selected about eight years ago.

A more eligible opportunity for farmers to secure most desirable farms, or for the investment of capital, could not be offered.

For further particulars apply personally, or by letter to Mr. Dawson, No. 9 East 15th street, New York, who will be in Janesville ten days before the sale takes place; to J. J. R. Pease, Esq., counsellor at law, Janesville, or to Mr. John Howe, on the property, at Footville. 488*my7daw6w

FARMERS, TAKE NOTICE!

The undersigned are having made at Beloit, Wis., one hundred of those Reapers known as the Cheap, or Webber Reaper!

Notwithstanding the increase of nearly double in price over other years of all materials put in Reapers, we are going to sell for 1864 at about the same prices as before. Our prices at the shop are $110 cash for single Reaper, for Reaper and Mower $140. We are making fifty Mowers, which will be warranted to do good work. They will be made of steel bars of the Buckeye pattern, except the hinges.

Those buying Reapers alone can have Mowers the next year or thereafter for the same price, as the difference between reaper and mower.

We do not deem it necessary to extol our Reaper, for it is already known to be the only two-horse Reaper in use. Notwithstanding a great many are used with two horses, they ought to use three or four, and some of them six, to be as easy to the horse as ours are to two ordinary horses.

Please send in your orders early to be sure of a machine, as positively only one hundred of them will be built, and we will warrant each and every machine to Work Well in all Kinds of Grain!

The Reels will be different from last year. They will be the over hanging reel, and have six bats instead of four keeping the reel, holding the grain to the sickle steady.

They will be shipped to any depot in Wisconsin or Illinois. Ten per cent. will be added if sold on time. One half the 1st of September, 1864, the balance the 1st of September, 1865.

Those buying machines will confer a favor by giving this machine publicity in their respective neighborhoods. When material gets to its usual stage we intend to make it a ninety dollar machine, and should have done it but for the unprecedented high prices of everything to construct machines with.

will attend strictly to the repairing of the Webber Reaper. None others wanted. We are prepared to change from chain to belt, put on castor wheels upon short notice. Men will be on hand to repair promptly. Charges light as the cost of material will admit. We shall manufacture none at that place, consequently we will be prepared to repair. Work solicited. All orders should be directed to

GOTTSCHALK ON KNABE.

[Translated from the French.]

After having played on the Piano of Messrs. Knabe & Co., it is impossible not to bear testimony to their qualities, which have acquired for them in the eminent reputation which they enjoy. The Pianos of their manufacture, on which I have played, are exceedingly remarkable for their quality. The tone is powerful without harshness, and the upper notes are sweet, clear and harmoniously mellow, (chrystalline) and I do not hesitate to express in regard to these instruments my entire satisfaction, and to declare that they are equal if not superior to the best manufactured in Europe or this country by the most celebrated makers.

Signed, L. M. GOTTSCHALK.

Superior and Beautiful Pictures

FROM LIFE!

It is not intended, or pretended, that Pictures can be had CHEAPER at the Parlors than elsewhere, and we shall not undertake to compete with others in Janesville, on low prices, but it is promised that the prices for pictures at the Parlors shall be as low as the same kind of work can be done for anywhere, and CHEAPER than many first class Galleries adopt. It shall be the constant aim of the proprietor of the "Parlor" to keep pace with all the improvements and discoveries made by the most advanced and scientific artists in the country. Those who are longing for

of their children, but who have failed through the impatience of the artist or other difficulties, are invited to call, when we promise that to all the means of the art known, to get them, shall be added patience and forbearance.

Old Daguerreotypes and Ambrotypes

copied into Photographs, and enlarged to any size.

BEAUTIFUL AMBROTYPES!!

Which are said to be the only pictures that will keep at sea or in every climate, taken in all their varieties.

Mrs. PORTER will be in attendance at the Parlors and devote her time and skill to the business. A large assortment of Gilt, Rosewood and Union Frames kept constantly on hand. Pictures taken in most all kinds of weather.

Remember the place, opposite McKey & Bro.'s store Main street.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

Janesville Daily Gazette.

SATURDAY, JUNE 11, 1864.

A man fifty years old, who cuts his hair regularly, will have removed from his head over thirteen feet, or twice his own length. Of beard, twenty-five years takes off eight feet. This cutting and shaving is attended with a great increase of the juice which nourishes the hair, a part of which is lost by evaporation from the stumps of the hairs. Bichet, the celebrated French physiologist, attributes to the superior strength of the ancients to the custom of wearing the beard.

The following conversation with a wounded rebel in one of the Washington hospitals is reported: "What are you fighting for?" "Our independence." Haven't you always had your independence?" "Yes, until this muss broke out." "Who fired first?" Why, I suppose we did; as long as there was some firing to be done we thought we might as well commence!"

ROCK CO., WISCONSIN, LANDS FOR SALE BY AUCTION.

Will be sold by auction, on

Thursday the 23d of June Next,

in the city of Janesville, Rock county, Wisconsin, thirty-eight hundred and forty (3840) acres of the finest agricultural lands in the State. They are situated about ten miles from Janesville, and adjoining the village of Footville, with the Beloit & Madison Railroad running through them, and the Milwaukee & Southern Wisconsin Railroad on their border and are composed of about an equal quantity of heavy "grove" timber and prairie. They were selected for their present owner for investment, nearly thirty years ago, as the best lands, in all respects, in Rock county, and this county, it is well known, is the garden of Wisconsin.
They will be sold in farm parcels, and the purchase money, less twenty or twenty-five per cent, which must be paid in cash, may remain on mortgage at seven per cent. interest, for seven or ten years, excepting timber lots which will be sold for cash.
There will also be sold at the same time and place, and in the same manner, but wholly for cash, twenty two hundred (2,200) acres of prime lands in Marathon county, near the town of Wausau, selected about eight years ago.
A more eligible opportunity for farmers to secure most desirable farms, or for the investment of capital, could not be offered.
For further particulars apply personally, or by letter to Mr. Dawson, No. 9 East 25th street, New York, who will be in Janesville ten days before the sale takes place; to J. R. Pease, Esq., counseller at law, Janesville, or to Mr. John Howe, on the property, at Footville. 488my7dawów

FARMERS, TAKE NOTICE!

The undersigned are having made at Beloit, Wis., one hundred of those Reapers known as the Cheap, or Webber Reaper!

Notwithstanding the increase of nearly double in price over other years of all materials put in Reapers, we are going to sell for 1864 at about the same prices as before. Our prices at the shop are $110 cash for single Reaper, for Reaper and Mower $140. We are making Fifty Mowers, which will be warranted to do good work. They will be made of steel bars of the Buckeye pattern, except the hinges.
Those buying Reapers alone can have Mowers the next year or Horserake for the same price, as the difference between reaper and mower.
We do not deem it necessary to extol our Reaper, for it is already known to be the only two-horse Reaper in use. Notwithstanding a great many are used with two horses, they ought to use three or four, and some of them six, to be as easy to the horse as ours are to two ordinary horses.
Please send in your orders early to be sure of a machine, as positively only one hundred of them will be built, and we will warrant each and every machine to Work Well in all Kinds of Grain!

The Reels will be different from last year. They will be the over hanging reel, and have six bats instead of four keeping the reel, holding the grain to the sickle steady.
They will be shipped to any depot in Wisconsin or Illinois. Ten per cent. will be added if sold on time. One half the 1st of September, 1864, the balance the 1st of September, 1865.
Those buying machines will confer a favor by giving this machine publicity in their respective neighborhoods. When material gets to its usual stage we intend to make it a ninety dollar machine, and should have done it but for the unprecedented high prices of everything to construct machines with.

The Reaper Shop at Afton!

will attend strictly to the repairing of the Webber Reaper. None others wanted. We are prepared to change from chain to belt, put on easier wheels upon short notice. Men will be on hand to repair promptly. Charges light as the cost of material will admit. We shall manufacture none at that place, consequently we will be prepared to repair. Work solicited. All orders should be directed to

GOTTSCHALK ON KNABE.

[Translated from the French.]

After having played on the Piano of Messrs. Knabe & Co., it is impossible not to bear testimony to their qualities, which have acquired for them the eminent reputation which they enjoy. The Pianos of their manufacture, on which I have played, are exceedingly remarkable for their qualities. The bass is powerful without harshness, and the upper notes sweet, clear and harmoniously mellow, (crystalin) and I do not hesitate to express in regard to these instruments my entire satisfaction, and to declare that they are equal if not superior to the best manufactured in Europe or this country by the most celebrated makers.
Signed, L. M. GOTTSCHALK.

Porter's Photograph Parlors,

On Main street, over Riordan & Leech's, and opposite McKey & Bro's store, in Dewey & Jenkin's Block. These rooms have been recently fitted up at a great expense, under the supervision of the proprietor. A large and has been built, and other facilities added, which, combined with the skill of an experienced Photographer, it is hoped will enable us to produce

Superior and Beautiful Pictures

FROM LIFE!

It is not intended, or PRETENDED, that Pictures can be had CHEAPER at the Parlors than elsewhere, and we shall not undertake to compete with others in Janesville, on low prices, but it is promised that the prices for pictures at the Parlors shall be as low as the same kind of work can be done for anywhere, and CHEAPER than many first class Galleries adopt. It shall be the constant aim of the proprietor of the "Parlors" to keep pace with all the improvements and discoveries made by the most advanced and scientific artists in the country. Those who are longing for

of their children, but who have failed through the impatience of the artist or other difficulties, are invited to call, when we promise that to all the means of the art known, to get them, shall be added patience and forbearance.

Old Dagnerreotypes and Ambrotypes

copied into Photographs, and enlarged to any size.

BEAUTIFUL AMBROTYPES!!

Which are said to be the only pictures that will keep as well or in every climate, taken in all their varieties.
Mrs. PORTER will be in attendance at the Parlors and devote her time and skill to the business. A large assortment of Gilt, Rosewood and Union Frames kept constantly on hand. Pictures taken in most all kinds of weather.
Remember the place, opposite McKey & Bro.'s store Main street.

RED JACKET

STOMACH BITTERS.
STOMACH BITTERS.
STOMACH BITTERS.

The proprietors of this justly esteemed and well-known brand of Stomach Bitters, do not deem it necessary, in order to give their goods a fictitious, or even an enhanced value, to take a fling at all other Bitters, and proclaim in small capitals that they are worthless. Our Bitters do not need this, as we place them before the public on their merits, and invite your careful attention to the goods we allow our brand upon, knowing as we do so, that our reputation is at stake. The name, "Red Jacket," is taken from the original compound by the native child of the forrest, and with the addition of a few herbs by Dr. Chapin, made more agreeable to the taste, they have now a peculiarly healthy, soothing and recuperative influence, especially for the patient rising from the bed of sickness, loss of appetite, distress after eating, dizziness, and all diseases arising from Torpid Liver or Indigestion.

They strengthen and invigorate the system
They are unequaled for general debility.
They are a sure cure for dyspepsia.
They give a good and healthy appetite.
They assist digestion.
They are the best stimulant in existence.
They are a sure preventive of Fever and Ague
They relieve constipation.
They cure Nervous Headache.
They are perfectly pure and palatable.
They make the debilitated strong, and restore to strength the exhausted.

Aged persons and delicate females will find they can save large doctor's bills by the use of these Bitters.

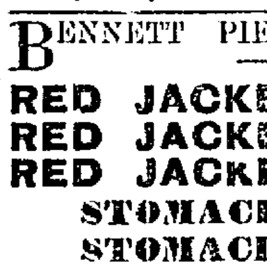

We take pleasure in calling attention to our very extensive catalogue of Bulk and Cased goods, consisting in part of

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE

Over the Post Office!

There is nothing so much sought for by the public as a practical Sewing Machine, one that is Simple, Strong & Reliable.

One that will run for years without the annoyance of being out of repair; one that is noiseless and swift in motion; also that makes the stitch as you want it, alike on both sides of the fabric; such are the machines of the

COMPANY!

Who take pleasure in placing their machines before the public, and unhesitatingly say they are the best in the world, and openly and publicly challenge machines of any and all manufactures to do as large a range of work as can easily be done on one of these machines. They make

and have all the advantages of a reversible feed motion, which carries the work either way, which, together with making all the four stitches, can be done whilst the machine is in motion; the saving of time in stopping to change the length of stitch, is obviated by this machine.

Any correspondence regarding our machines will be promptly answered. Enclose a letter stamp and we will send circular and sample of work by return mail.

Patent Medicines.

Good News for the Unfortunate!

THE LONG SOUGHT FOR

DISCOVERED AT LAST.

CHEROKEE REMEDY

AND

CHEROKEE INJECTION!

Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic cures all diseases of the urinary organs.

☞ It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two teaspoonfuls three times per day.

☞ It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced diseases.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the Cherokee Remedy, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gleet, Gonorrhea, Fluor Albus. Its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent, removing all scalding, heat and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack injections

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

☞ Price, Cherokee Remedy, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.

☞ Price, Cherokee Injection, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.

☞ Sent by Express to any address on receipt of price.

For full particulars get our pamphlet from any drug store in the country, or write us and we will mail free to any address, a full treatise.

CHEROKEE CURE!

☞ This medicine is a simple vegetable extract, and one on which all can rely, as it has been used in our practice for many years, and with thousands treated, it has not failed in a single instance. Its curative powers have been sufficient to gain victory over the most stubborn case.

☞ To those who have trifled with their constitution, until they think themselves beyond the reach of medical aid, we would say, DESPAIR NOT! the CHEROKEE CURE will restore you to health and vigor, and after all quack doctors have failed!

☞ Price, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5, and forwarded by Express to all parts of the world.

☞ For full particulars get a Circular from any Drug Store in the country, or write to the agent, who will mail free to any one desiring the same, a full treatise, in pamphlet form.

A Better Style,
and a Better Fit

THAN AT ANY OTHER STORE

this side of Boston.

FARMERS,

Don't pay Twelve Shillings for a Hat

at some of the small concerns round town, when you can purchase the same at our store for one dollar.

Don't pay $4 for a Linen Coat, when you can get the same quality at M. C. Smith & Co.'s for $3.

Don't pay from $20 to $25 for a Black Dress Coat, when you can purchase precisely the same quality at M. C. Smith & Co.'s for from $12 to $16.

Don't pay from $25 to $30 for a Suit of Clothes, when you can purchase the same, only a little better, at M. C. Smith & Co., at from $20 to $25.

Don't go and pay $10 for a Trunk,

when you can buy the same at our store for $6
Now, Farmers of Rock County,

THIS IS NO BLOWING,

but the real truth, and after you have looked into every concern in town,

STOMACH BITTERS.
STOMACH BITTERS.
STOMACH BITTERS.

The proprietors of this justly esteemed and well-known brand of Stomach Bitters, do not deem it necessary, in order to give their goods a fictitious, or even an enhanced value, to take a fling at all other Bitters, and proclaim in small capitals that they are worthless. Our Bitters do not need this, as we place them before the public on their merits, and invite your careful attention to the goods we allow our brand upon, knowing as we do so, that our reputation is at stake. The name, "Red Jacket," is taken from the original compound by the native child of the forrest, and with the addition of a few herbs by Dr. Chapin, made more agreeable to the taste, they have now a peculiarly healthy, soothing and recuperative influence, especially for the patient rising from the bed of sickness, loss of appetite, distress after eating, dizziness, and all diseases arising from Torpid Liver or Indigestion.

They strengthen and invigorate the system.
They are unequaled for general debility.
They are a sure cure for dyspepsia.
They give a good and healthy appetite.
They assist digestion.
They are the best stimulant in existence.
They are a sure preventive of Fever and Ague.
They relieve constipation.
They cure Nervous Headache.
They are perfectly pure and palatable.
They make the debilitated strong, and restore to strength the exhausted.

Aged persons and delicate females will find they can save large doctor's bills by the use of these Bitters.

FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE

Over the Post Office!

There is nothing so much sought for by the public as a practical Sewing Machine, one that is Simple, Strong & Reliable.

One that will run for years without the annoyance of being out of repair; one that is noiseless and swift in motion; also that makes the stitch as you want it, alike on both sides of the fabric; such are the machines of the

COMPANY!

Who take pleasure in placing their machines before the public, and unhesitatingly say they are the best in the world, and openly and publicly challenge machines of any and all manufactures to do as large a range of work as can easily be done on one of these machines. They make

and have all the advantages of a reversible feed motion, which carries the work either way, which, together with making all the four stitches, can be done whilst the machine is in motion; the saving of time in stopping to change the length of stitch, is obviated by this machine.

Any correspondence regarding our machines will be promptly answered. Enclose a letter stamp and we will send circular and sample of work by return mail.

DISCOVERED AT LAST.

CHEROKEE REMEDY

AND

CHEROKEE INJECTION!

Compounded from Roots, Barks & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic cures all diseases of the urinary organs.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two teaspoonfuls three times per day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the Cherokee Remedy, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gleet, Gonorrhea, Fluor Albus. Its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent, removing all scalding, heat and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack injections.

By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

Price, Cherokee Remedy, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.

CHEROKEE CURE!

This medicine is a simple vegetable extract, and one on which all can rely, as it has been used in our practice for many years, and with thousands treated, it has not failed in a single instance. Its curative powers have been sufficient to gain victory over the most stubborn case.

To those who have trifled with their constitution, until they think themselves beyond the reach of medical aid, we would say, DESPAIR NOT! the CHEROKEE CURE will restore you to health and vigor, and after all quack doctors have failed!

Price, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5, and forwarded by Express to all parts of the world.

THAT IS SO—AND NO MISTAKE!

If You Wish to Save Money

you must go where they sell

GOODS THE CHEAPEST,

and that place is

M. C. SMITH & CO.'S,

where you can save fifty cents to one dollar on a Hat

You can save from one dollar to one dollar and a half on a pair of Pants.

You can save from two dollars to six dollars on a Coat.

You can save from five to ten dollars on a Suit of Clothes.

In addition to these great savings you will procure goods of

A Better Quality,

A Better Style,

[illegible] and a Better Fit

THAN AT ANY OTHER STORE

this side of Boston.

FARMERS,

Don't pay Twelve Shillings for a Hat

at some of the small concerns round town, when you can purchase the same at our store for one dollar.

Don't pay $4 for a Linen Coat,

when you can get the same quality at M. C. Smith & Co.'s for $3.

Don't pay from $20 to $25 for a Black Dress Coat, when you can purchase precisely the same quality at M. C. Smith & Co.'s for from $12 to $16.

Don't pay from $25 to $30 for a Suit of Clothes, when you can purchase the same, only a little better, at M. C. Smith & Co., at from $20 to $25.

Don't go and pay $10 for a Trunk,

when you can buy the same at our store for $6.

Now, Farmers of Rock County,

THIS IS NO BLOWING,

but the real truth, and after you have looked into every concern in town,

GIVE US A CALL!

We will convince you that the above are facts. We shall always cheerfully exhibit our goods, and any one favoring us with a call may feel assured that though he might fail to purchase he will not be misused.
